My Darling Alan,

Even though you are a dithead sometimes, you're an all-around nice guy. I'm gonna miss ya lots next year and the years to come. We've stood up for each other against Ginsey many a times. You're a nice person all together. Don't ever explode into anything else.

I Love You,

Liz Morrow '77

Dear Alan,

I enjoyed being in Drama and Choir with you. Didn't we have fun in Greensboro?! I'll always remember you and love you forever.

Cindy Farmer

Alan,

I have enjoying know you in class these year and all the thing you have know for me. I think a very lot of you, and hope to see you in future, Have just owent get a Bigmad Because you are getting out of High School! But you know we didn't know How!

Love

Erin

Alan,

It has been great knowing you this year. We've had a lot of good times this year in Choir. Homeroom has also been something else this year, too. Thanks for everything.

Love,

Janet

Dear Alan,
Wow! What a year. I think it has been the best year anyone could have hoped for. It really seems like a long time from 8th grade to now. (the 12th). Remember me if not for me but for the klutz I am. Falling out of the car at Carowinds, falling over the tennis net, falling off the risers at the choir performance. I sure do alot of falling don't I. Thank you for the very nice time I had at the Prom last year. It was great. After graduation please keep in touch. I'd hate to have our friendship die. Take care of yourself. You're a real trip to be around at times. Again be good.

Love always,
Nancy Jarrell

Alan,
It's been an O.K. year and I'm going to miss you in home room 117, Emmerson, Hey! I've enjoyed your company in Drama along with everyone elses. I hope you get what you want out of life and I know if you don't it won't be because you didn't try.

Love you Alan
Sue Rhodes

I can't believe it! This year is finally about over. Keep that voice in shape and lots of good luck in the future.

It's been really fine knowing you. You're a great person, and I wish you best of everything always. Enjoy yourself, you have lots to offer. Thank you for your friendship!
Love ya lots,
Kay

Well - where do I begin - After spending many hours with a sensitive soul as you, one manages to survive anything! You have been a stronghold in theatre & I will sincerely miss that & truly appreciate all your support and help. Now as far as that hot little temper and a mouth big enough for five set of teeth, I say I pity the next drama teacher. Need more room. Bill Kinney

Alan,
You've been called alot of things and cut down pretty bad sometimes in here (Drama) (but of course we all have at one time or another) I think your a nice guy and I appreciate all the rides and everything. (Out to lunch and etc.) We've had some crazy times in here but they've all been good. We'll miss you next year. Good Luck and be good. (Don't slip too many hamburgers this summer) Have a good summer.

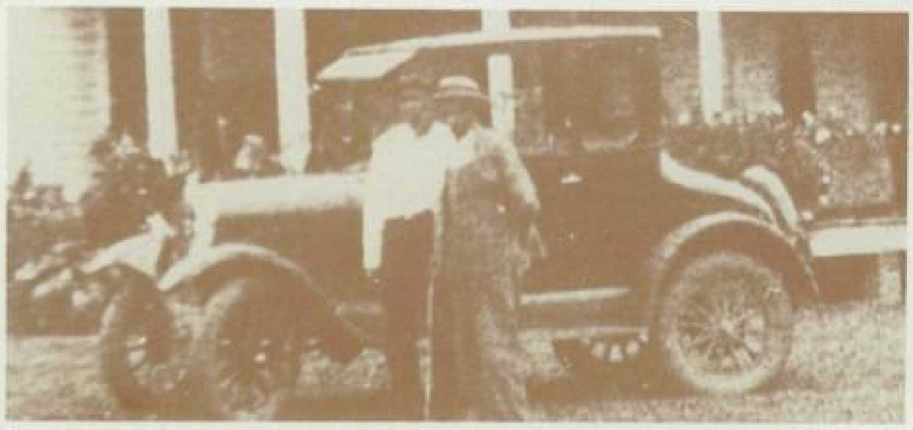
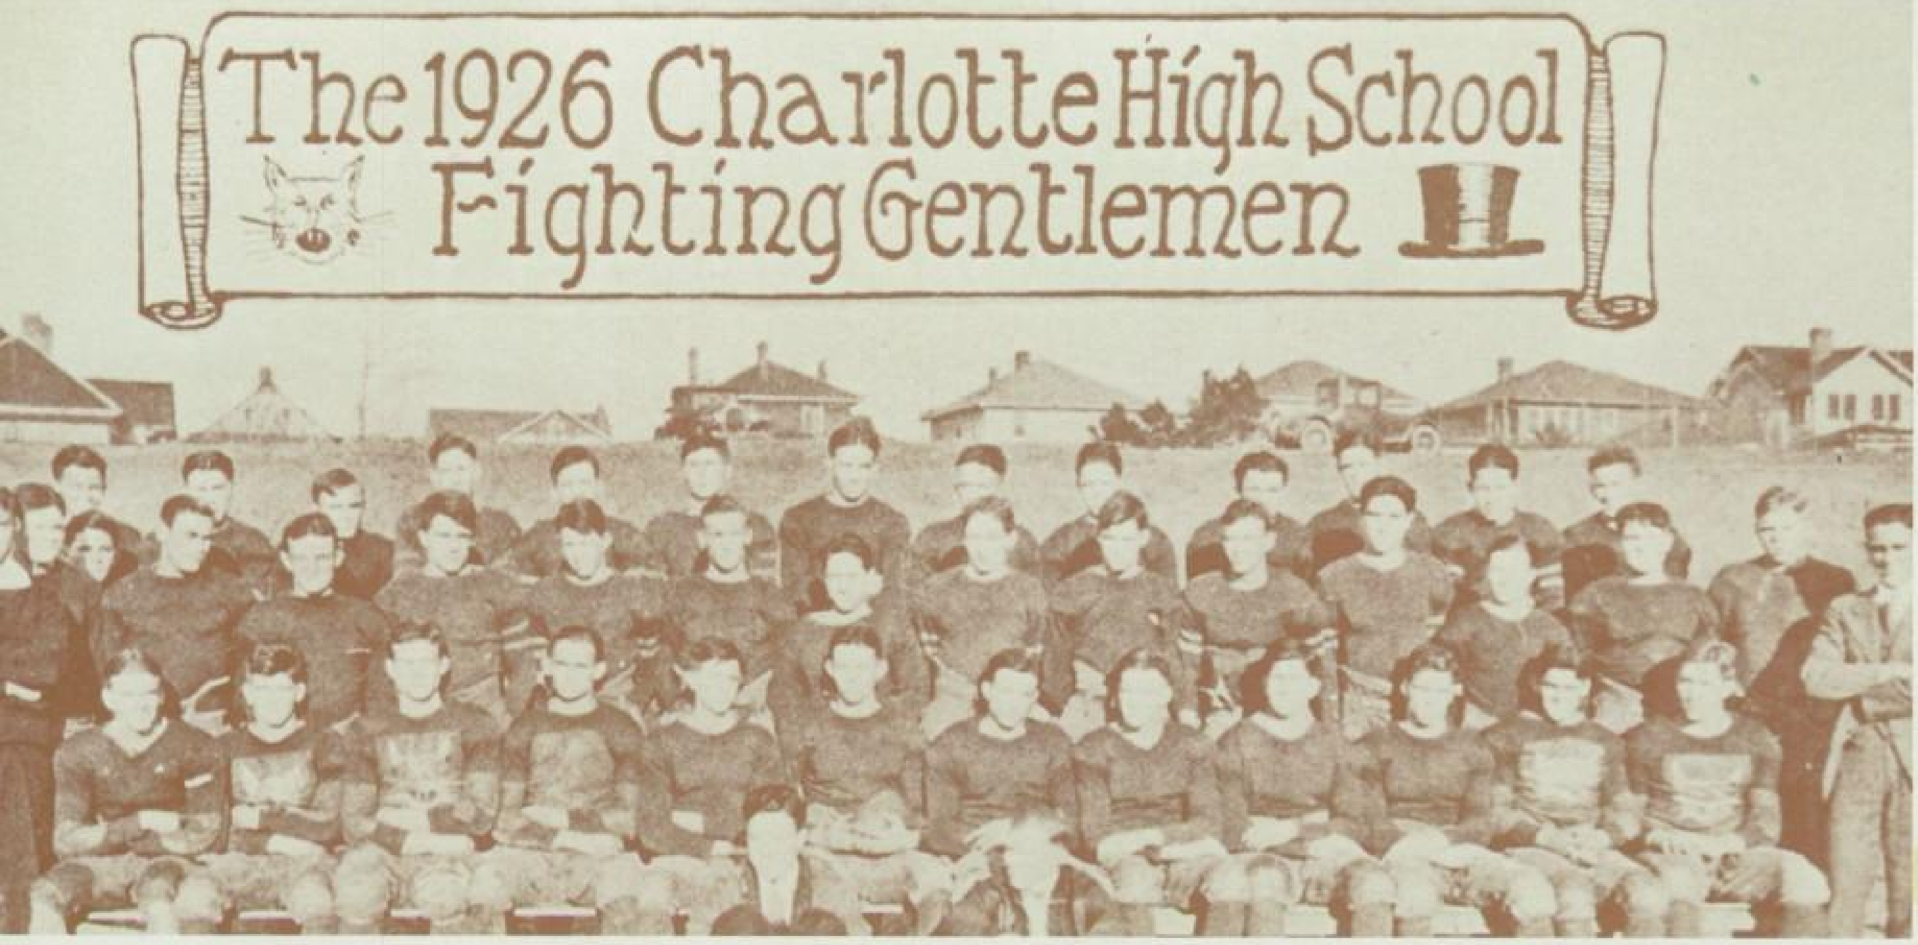
The year was 1908 — a time when coffee was only 36 cents per pound and when two young people could be arrested for eloping. The Model T had just been introduced and the country faced an election year after the turbulent previous administration of Teddy Roosevelt — out of this atmosphere arose Charlotte High and with it the beginnings of an era steeped in the pride and tradition which is Garinger.

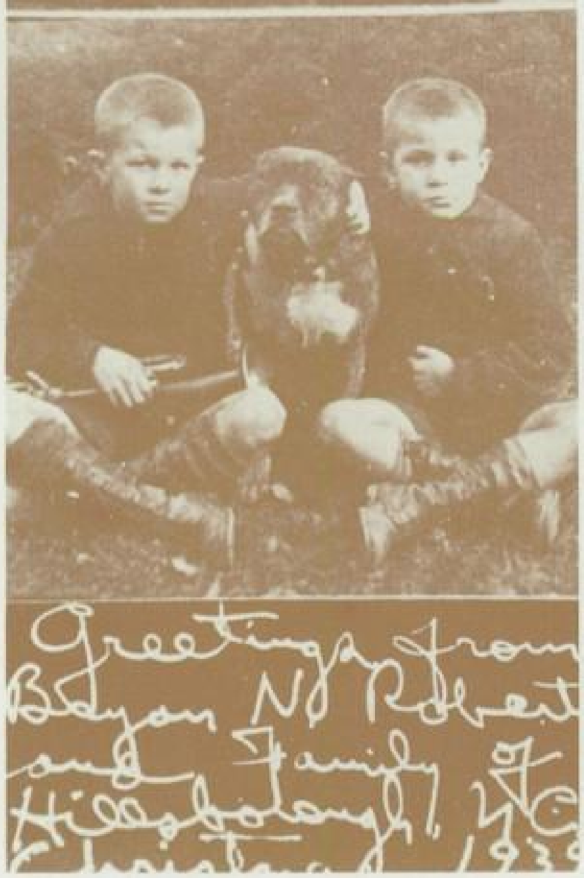




The 1926 Charlotte High School Fighting Gentlemen

The 20's were a time of social change and Central was a testimony to that fact. The "Rambler" published an article in 1923 about a doctor who claimed that kissing could be hazardous to a young man's health. In 1925 the election of a girl as a class officer brought about a serious protest by the boys at Central. Despite the occasional campus dilemmas the students showed genuine interest in their school. In 1922 the entire student body of Central High attended a performance given by a professional whistler. Among the senior superlatives listed in the 1927 edition of The Snips and Cuts were — faculty's pet, biggest sheik, and caveman. Amid all the frivolity of the Central High of the 1920's one can feel sure the seriousness of the following decade was not anticipated.

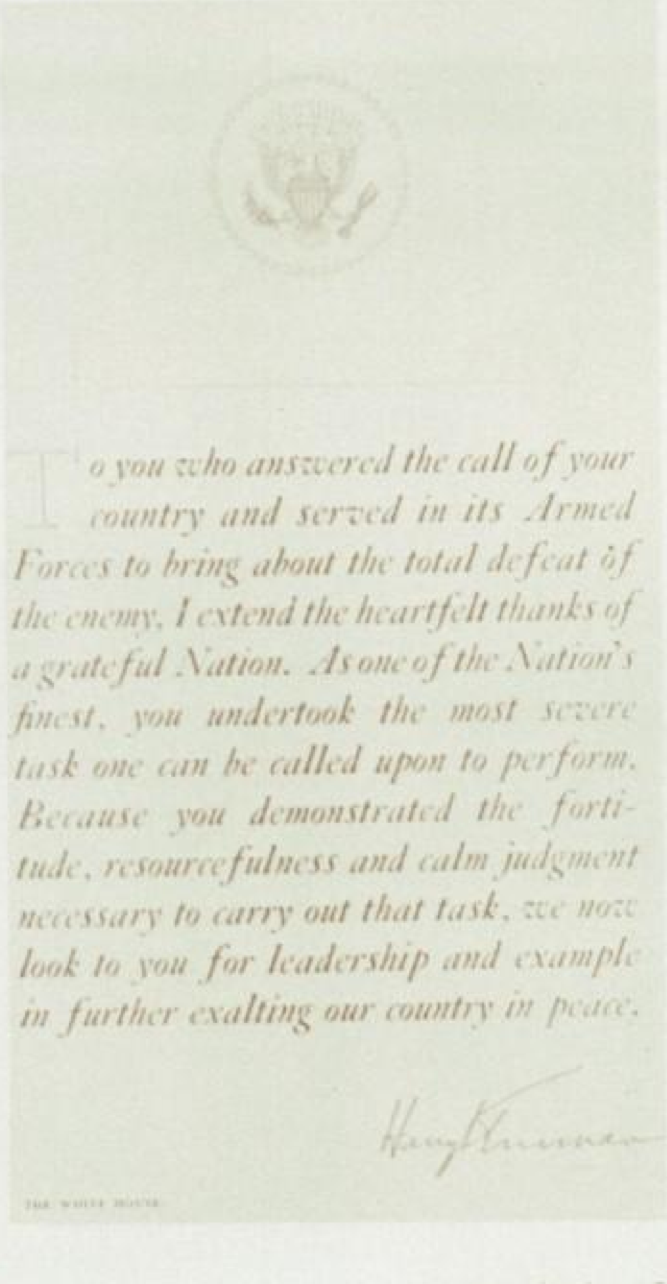
Central High of the 1930's reflected the economic conditions of the period quite accurately. Central's seniors participated in an annual activity known as "Ivey's Day". On this day members of the senior class would assume the roles of all positions held by Ivey's employees. "The Rambler" could be purchased by a plan of 5 cents a week for 15 weeks in 1931. Also in 1931 an essential article for most every Central "blue wave" was a towel ticket. Towels were not supplied without charge — instead one had to purchase a ticket that for 25 cents would allot 15 towels. The towels could be gotten in the main office upon request. As for the sports scene of the 30's one could say that bridge was considered a major sport around Central High. The solemnity of the 30's was ushered out by the 40's in great flash and spirit —



American society was rejuvenated during the 40's due to the war and the end of the economic crisis. Central High was no exception to this general social rule. The average Central student's vocabulary reflected the new frivolic attitudes. Such words as "zombie" (an unpopular girl), "shot of dope" (a glass of Pepsi), "Mona Lizard" (a girl no one likes), and "klassy kitten" (good-looking girl), were staple terminology.

The 1945 Wildcat dressed in what was considered "flashy" attire. Blue suede shoes were worn while "cruising" down the halls of Central with long multicolored shoe laces flapping in the breeze. Under the cuffs of the peg legged pants worn with dazzling gold belts could be found either crew or fuzzy angora socks. The fully attired, properly versed Centralite would then Jitter-Bug the night away to his favorite big band sounds. Then for relaxation or humor they would listen to the "Hit Parade" with songs such as "My Darling, My Darling" by Gordon McCrae and "All I Want for Christmas is My Two Front Teeth" by Spike Jones.

This decade was setting the stage for the rebellious times that were to come.



To you who answered the call of your country and served in its Armed Forces to bring about the total defeat of the enemy, I extend the heartfelt thanks of a grateful Nation. As one of the Nation's finest, you undertook the most severe task one can be called upon to perform. Because you demonstrated the fortitude, resourcefulness and calm judgment necessary to carry out that task, we now look to you for leadership and example in further exalting our country in peace.

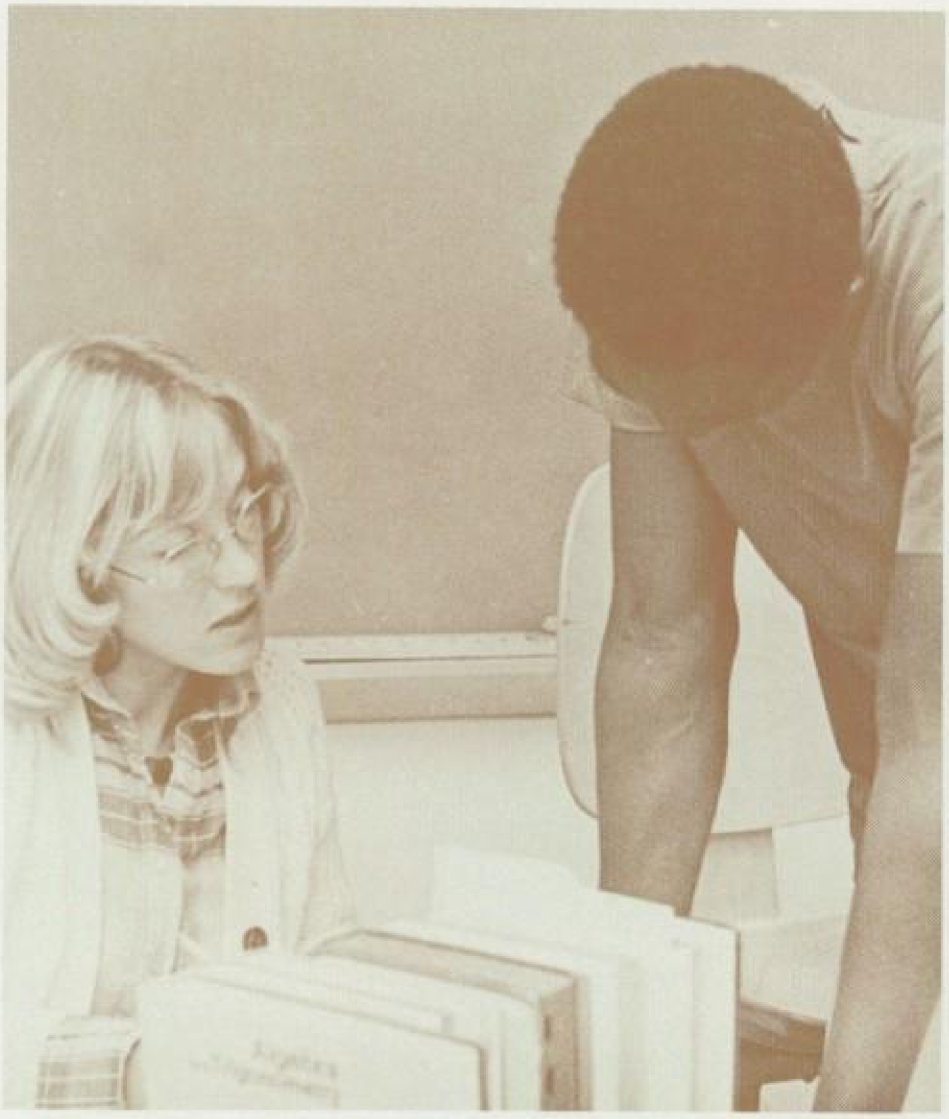
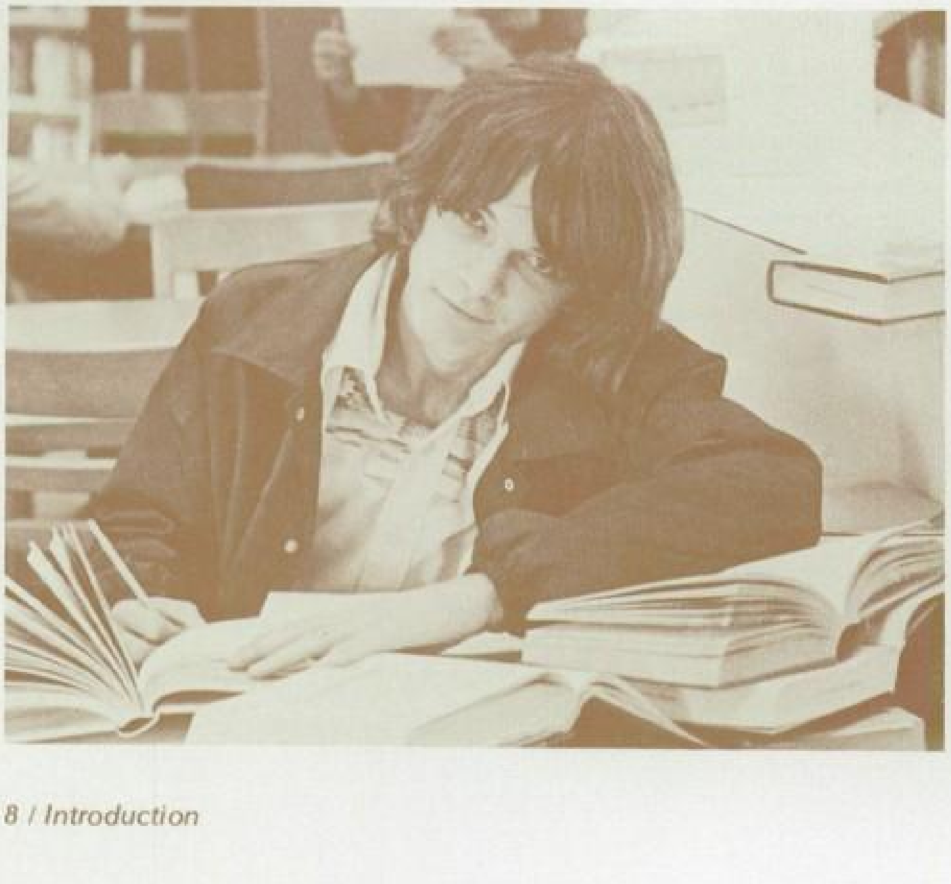
SOMETHING TO FIGHT FOR, LADS

During the 1950's the older generation suddenly found themselves confronted by a group of young people. Their sons were wearing something called a "ducktail" on their heads, and leather jackets with words like "crusher" or "daredevil" on the back. Their daughters were twisting around the house in saddle shoes while their ponytails danced up and down. On any Friday night they may have seen their young lady crawl into her fellow's hot rod and head out to a dance sponsored by the new Centrusa club. There they would "rock around the clock" to the tunes of Chubby Checker or the Platters and discuss the decision to change Central to Elmer H. Garinger High School and relocate in a different part of town. A few girls from the new sophomore club Adelphians may have shown up in their Angora sweaters looking for their very own imitation of James Dean.

The underlying atmosphere of the 50's was reaching towards the realism that was to overtake the nation two decades later —



We have risen from a two room building known as "The High School" to become North Carolina's largest secondary institution. We have progressed from the days of complete segregation to a time when black and white walk together as friends. We celebrate our existence and whisper words of thanks for what we were, what we are, and what we shall be-



The annual staff would like to dedicate the '76 edition of Snips and Cuts to Miss Janet Robinson. Miss Robinson began teaching at Central High in 1936. She had also attended Central as a student and had the honor of serving as president of the Student Council.

During her years as the Bible teacher at Central and Garinger she has stood as a source of inspiration for all who have come in contact with her. Due to this she has earned the position of a much sought after speaker on topics related to the Bible. The total belief and dedication she feels toward her subject evokes a spirit of admiration.

In dedicating this annual to you, Miss Robinson, we represent all who know you in extending thanks for the time, patience, and love you have expressed through the years.

They are entrusted with the power to help mold the minds of tomorrow's society —

We are either glorious products of their talents or victims of their mistakes — Together we march on — thanking each other for the knowledge we have gained of — our world —

Administration

Each year at Garinger is unique within itself. Each brings its own problems and joys. Our administration is prepared to confront either situation.

Mr. Richard Cansler dealt with major administrative problems. Mr. Bill Ross, assistant principal, handled bus transportation. Mr. Thomas Asbury, also assistant principal, was in charge of attendence. Miss Nan Abell was assistant to the principal.

Behind the Scenes

Run that by me again. . .

Not many students come in contact with the secretaries. They, therefore do not realize how important our secretaries are in keeping Garinger running smoothly.

In the Main Office the secretaries take care of the main functions of the school. This is also where student records are kept and where schedules are taken care of. The 100 office mainly deals with daily attendance and withdrawals. All guidance related work is handled in the 200 office. They keep recommendations and college test materials there. The 300 office is in charge of late arrivals and early dismissals. It takes the effort of many secretaries to meet Garinger's needs.

You won't tell anybody that I just found an extra $2000, will you?

"When I read some of the rules for speaking and writing the English language correctly. . .I think —
Any fool can make a rule
And every fool will mind it."
H. D. Thoreau

The English Department strives to teach the student the correct English language so that he may communicate effectively in society and to familiarize him with the best literature that man has produced and is producing. They want to impress an appreciation for the value of literature as well as teach him to enjoy what he reads.

Many teachers used the V.T.R. (Video Tape Recorder) in their teaching. This gave the students an opportunity to see themselves and the impression that they give others.

The department had a new teacher who took Mrs. Raynette Covington's place during first semester. She was Miss Linda Norris who was a former graduate of Garinger.

The Past, Present and Future

Emphasis on the Metric System

Mathematics is a study which "did not begin with Pythagoras, and will not end with Einstein, but is the oldest and the youngest of all."
G. H. Hardy

The Mathematics Department meets the needs of both the college-bound and the non-college bound student. Their objective is to provide each individual with the math he will need in future life. They have begun to put emphasis on the Metric system, and a Metric Measurement kit was used in some classes.

There were several new math courses offered this year — Algebra III Trig (which replaced Math Concepts) and Calculus were added. Algebra III Trig was taught by Mrs. Sarah DeBerry and Mrs. Catherine Sanders.

Mrs. Mary Carol Katzel and Mrs. Karen Kirkman were new teachers in the Math Department.

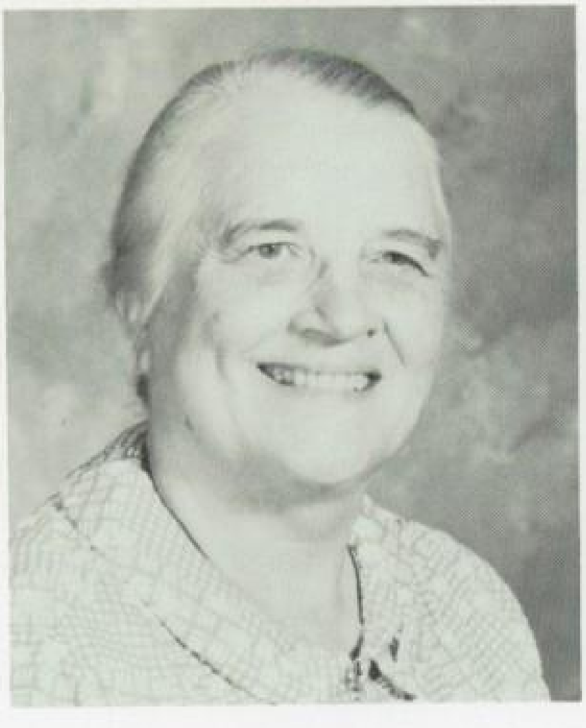
An Outlet for Creativity

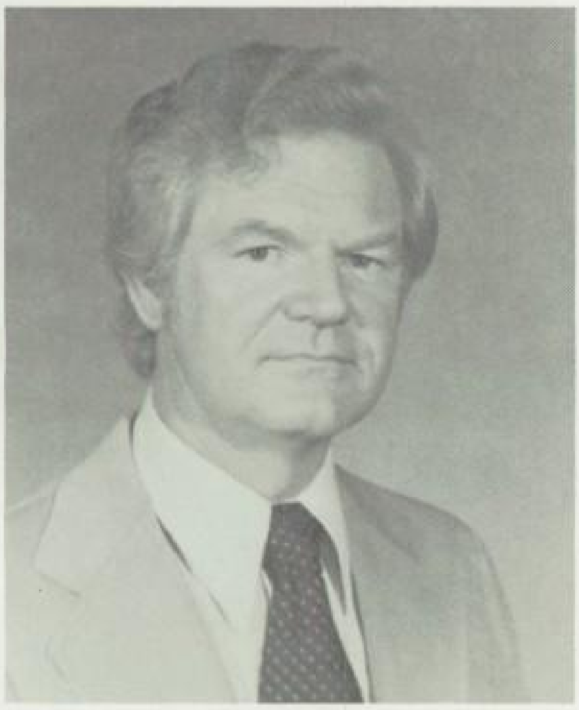
Garinger's art teacher, Miss Wilma King, expresses the main objective of the art department as an attempt "to broaden the students' base of experience with tools, materials, and concepts in visual art with the emphasis on creating a greater awareness of the structural aspects of design". This goal is accomplished through study of a wide variety of techniques — students can try their hand at such things as leather tooling, batik, and making jewelry, along with drawing, painting, and sculpture. By experimenting in these areas, students can express themselves and at the same time, develop their natural talent.

"Every artist dips his brush in his own soul, and paints his own nature into his pictures."
Henry Ward Beecher

Studying the Scriptures

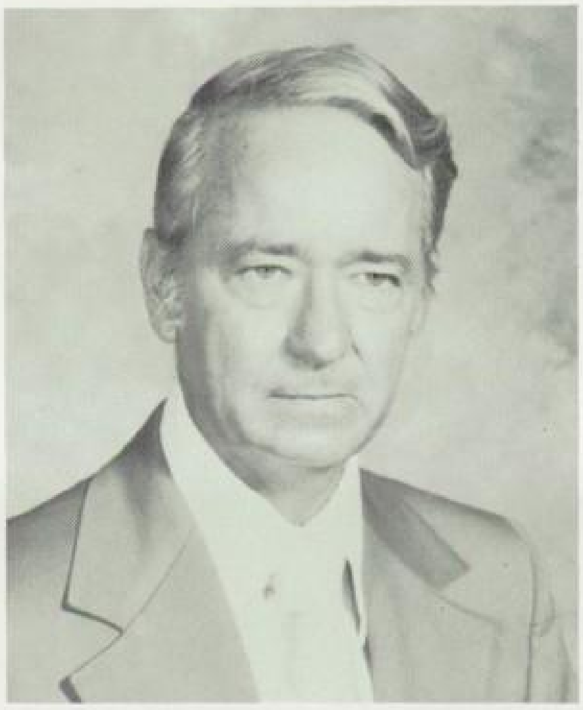
For the past 16 years, Miss Janet Robinson has taught Bible to those students who wish to study and learn more about the scriptures. She teaches both Bible I and Bible II classes. Bible I students study Old Testament history and the life of Christ. Bible II students study Old Testament history, Psalms and Proverbs, and the Book of Acts. Bible is a very demanding course, but a very enjoyable and worthwhile one.





Dr. Robert L. Maddox

"Let Us Entertain You"



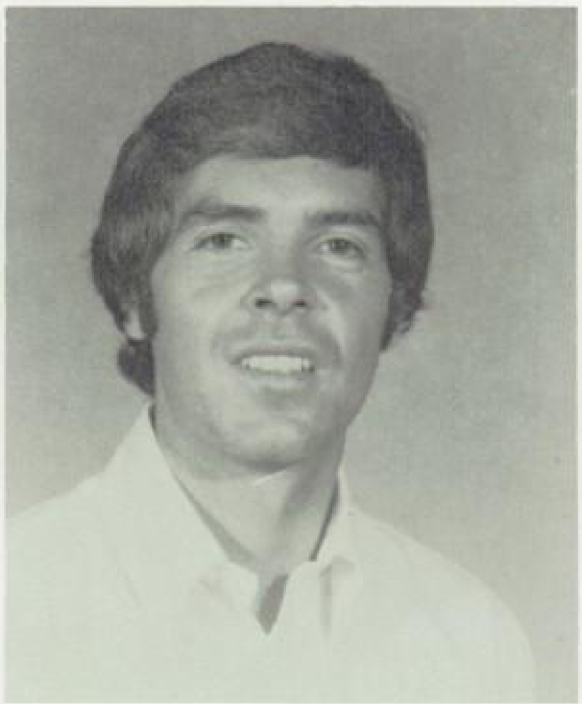
Mr. John Sanders

Garinger's Music department offers a wide spectrum of courses to suit all interests. Under the direction of Dr. Robert L. Maddox, the Symphonic Band spends football season as Garinger's marching band, and performs for the rest of the year at concerts and school music programs, along with the Orchestra. The Concert Band's main purpose is for students to learn important musical skills. Garinger band members also provide the school with a pep band at basketball games.

In the choral music department, the Choir, Girls Ensemble, and Sanderettes, under the direction of Mr. John Sanders, are another pleasing addition to music at Garinger.

The Drama department, headed by Mr. Bill Kinsey, gives plays, variety shows, and other dramatic performances throughout the year.

All in all, Garinger's performing arts department is well-rounded and varied enough to suit all tastes.



Mr. Bill Kinsey

A Quiet Place to Learn

"The library is not a shrine for the worship of books. It is not a temple where literary incense must be burned or where one's devotion to the bound book is expressed in ritual. A library, to modify the famous metaphor of Socrates, should be the delivery room for the birth of ideas — a place where history comes to life."
Norman Cousins

The Garinger library is an indispensable resource. It provides a collection of books, magazines, pamphlets, and audio visual equipment. The librarians are a great aid in helping one to locate what one needs from these resources.

Language forms a great barrier between countries. Especially in today's world when communication is of utmost importance, this barrier needs to be moved aside.

Through studying a foreign language, a student not only learns the language, but also the culture of the country. The student also learns to appreciate his own language and culture through the study of others.

Preparing for Jobs

A large percentage of Garinger's faculty teach Vocational or Business Education courses. These programs of study are designed to lead either to a job after high school or to further study in business education or in a specialized vocation such as radio braodcasting or cabinetmaking. The Business Education/Vocational department welcomed 3 new teachers this year: Mr. Dennis Totaro, Mrs. Katy Lesley, and Miss Liz Hernandez. Through the help of the Business Ed./Vocational teachers, Garinger students who chose these programs of study are learning skills which will be helpful to them both at home and in the working world.

According to Mr. Jim Carroll, the Physical Education department serves a dual purpose: to teach students a number of activities they might use as a satisfying means of recreation both as students and as adults, and also, to foster appreciation of the value of being physically fit. Garinger's P.E. instructors accomplish both of these, making fitness fun as well as beneficial.

The Driver Education teachers at Garinger have an important job — to teach students the skills necessary to become safe, competent drivers. ROTC Builds Character Garinger's ROTC is an organization which proves its worth in many ways. While preparing students who intend to go into the military service, it also instills a love of country and a pride all citizens should share. This year, Sgt. John Robinson became a part of Garinger's ROTC, having previously taught at the college level.

In Grateful Appreciation

Feeding and cleaning up after the over 2,300 Garinger students and faculty is the task assigned to Garinger's cafeteria and custodial staff. Each day, cafeteria workers prepare nutritious lunches at reasonable prices, and each afternoon, our custodial staff is hard at work to keep the school clean and running smoothly. Thanks to them, Garinger is a more pleasant place to spend each day.

Cyndi Prevette is Miss Blue and Gray

The annual Miss Blue and Gray pageant was held on May 15, 1975, in Garinger's auditorium. Nine girls vied for the title. Among these, one was chosen as Miss Blue and Gray, 1976.

The winner was Cyndi Prevette, a member of the Senior class. She felt that it was based on individuality, not popularity. For her talent competition, Cyndi did a modern jazz dance to "It's a Miracle".

The first runner-up in the pageant was Joyce Davis, also a senior. Her performing talent was singing "Let there be Peace on Earth". She stated that she was shocked when they announced that she was first runner-up. She had started only two days before the pageant, while others had been practicing for weeks. Miss Debbie Bunn, a junior, was second runner-up and she was also selected as Miss Congeniality. She felt highly honored since she had received the next highest honor to Miss Blue and Gray herself. Debbie's performing talent was a tap dance.

Miss Black and Blue

On October 3, 1975 the annual Miss Black and Blue pageant was held in Garingers' auditorium.

The pageant was opened with a dance by the eighteen contestants in an assortment of dresses that did not quite zip.

Ms. Jack Brayboy was Ms. Congeniality as well as Ms. Black and Blue.

The Garinger High School Honor Society, a chapter of the National Honor Society of Secondary Schools, is an organization founded to bring recognition to outstanding students. The object of the chapter is to create an enthusiasm for scholarship, stimulate a desire to render service, promote worthy leadership, and encourage the development of character.

Qualified students selected for membership are inducted in the second semester of their junior year or during the second or fourth quarter of their senior year.

During the school year '75-'76 members of the society offered free tutoring to students requesting help with academic subjects. Another service project was the raising of funds for two scholarships.

1975 Chief Marshals and Marshals

Tanya Davis, Patty Cheek, Sandra Mills.

Being a marshal is one of the greatest honors that could be given to a member of the Junior class.

Marshals are selected on the basis of superior scholarship, citizenship, leadership, service, and personal appearance. Each marshal is nominated by his homeroom teacher and chosen through secret ballots by a committee of faculty members. The chief marshals were chosen by class rank. This year's chief marshals are Patty Cheek, chief; Sandra Mills and Tanya Davis, associate chiefs.

The responsibilities of the marshals include distributing programs and escorting parents and guests to their seats during the Baccalaureate Service. The marshals also have the honor of escorting the seniors to their seats and to the stage to receive their diplomas.

Morehead Nominees

Jack Brayboy

Teresa Collins

Jeanne Klein

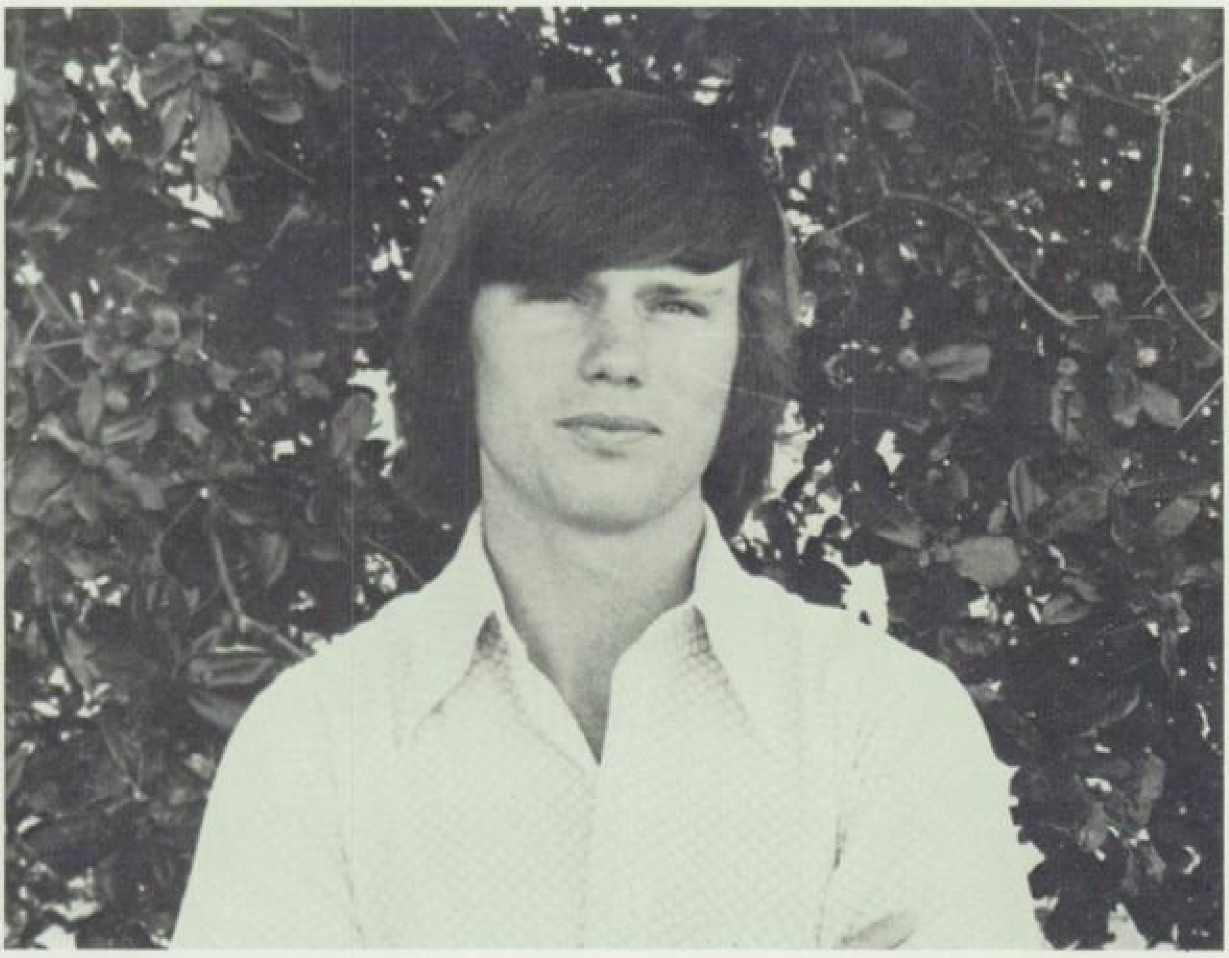
Paulette Redfern

The John Motley Morehead award is a four year scholarship to the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. The Morehead is one of the most recognized scholarships in the state.

A committee composed of the counseling staff, Mr. Cansler, and selected teachers submitted four qualified students' names to seek the award which began on the county level.

The four: Jack Brayboy, Teresa Collins, Jeanne Klein, and Paulette Redfern; all met the eligibility requirements and excelled in the areas judged assets in becoming a Morehead scholar. Nevertheless, Jack, Teresa, Jeanne, and Paulette did not make the county cut and were eliminated from eligibility for the award.

Although the scholarship was not awarded to one of our representatives, the student body at Garinger is still very proud to have had such outstanding and intellectual students representing our fine school.



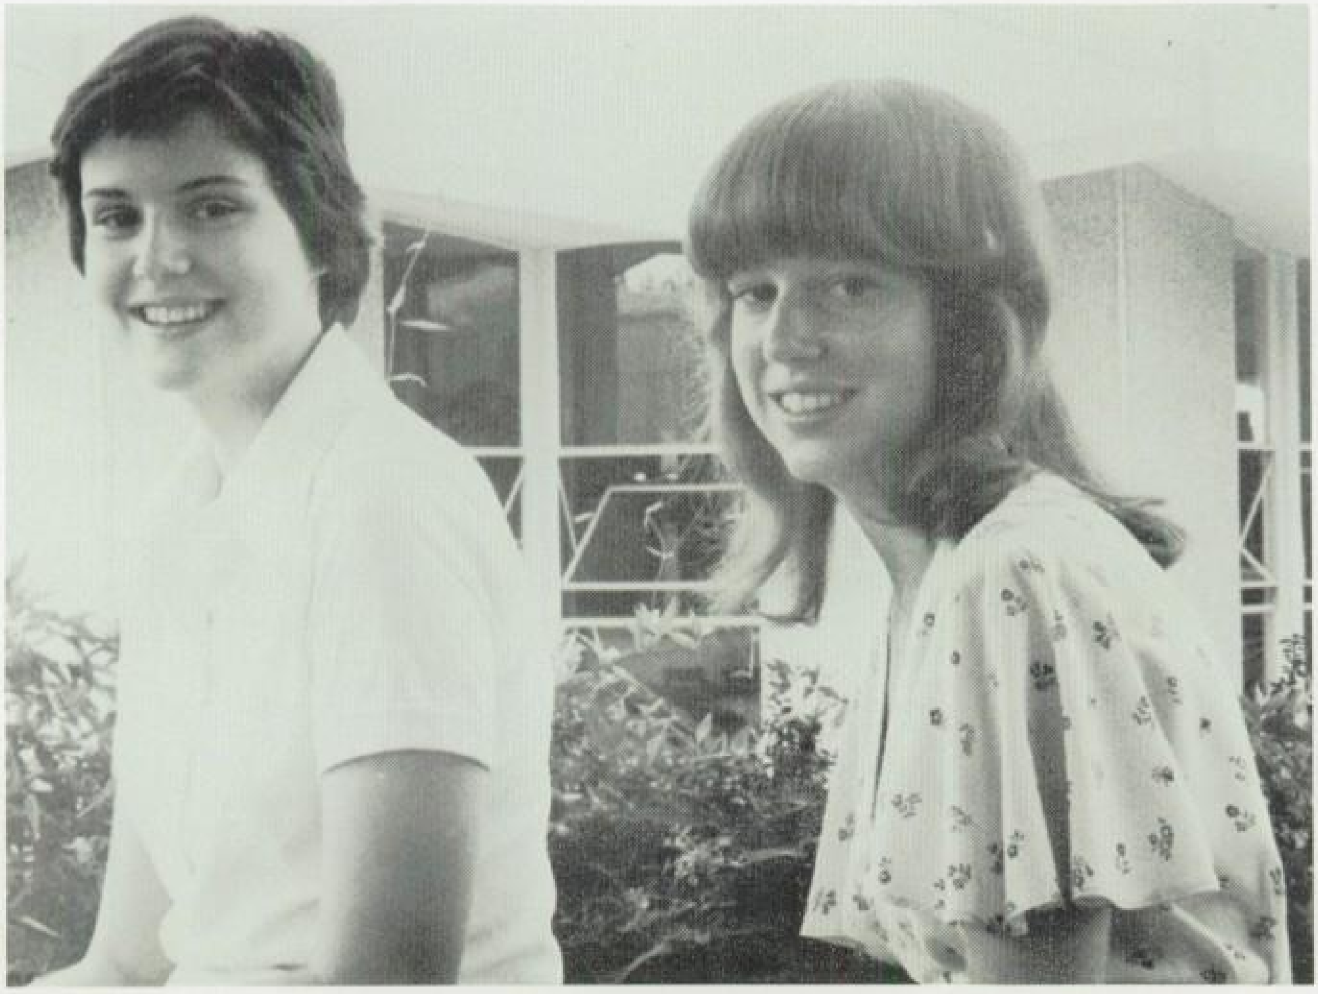
Greg Huskey

Harvard Book Award

Greg Huskey received the Harvard Book Award on Honors and Awards Day last year. This was presented to him on behalf of the Harvard Club of Charlotte. This award is given to a rising male senior who accumulated an excellent academic record.

The Harvard Book is a synopsis of literary works concerning Harvard and works by Harvard students.

Governor's School



Kay Simpson and Susie Maag

Governor's School is held in Winston-Salem for six weeks. This school is held for students from all over North Carolina for their abilities in academics or the arts. Two students, Susie Maag who studied mathematics, and Kay Simpson who participated in the choral music program, attended the '75 summer session.

While there the students spent two thirds of their time in their chosen field. Susie took advanced classes in math concepts and Kay in choral music. Both girls took courses in psychology and in philosophy. The activities also included various recreational activities. There were softball games, movies, dances and even a masquerade ball, for their enjoyment. Both girls agree that their summer at Governor's School was filled with many enriching experiences that they will never forget.

Americans Abroad

Donna Aycoth

This summer two Garinger students had the opportunity to travel abroad under the foreign exchange program. These students were Donna Aycoth and Teresa Collins, who spent the summer in Denmark and France respectively. They were chosen after meeting requirements that included having a B average and at least two years of one foreign language to their credit.

Among the girls' experiences during their nine week stay were extensive European travel, exploration of French and Danish night life, and an improbable reunion together in France.

A new perspective of their own customs and morals and close relationships with their "families" made for a rewarding summer they will never forget.

Teresa Collins

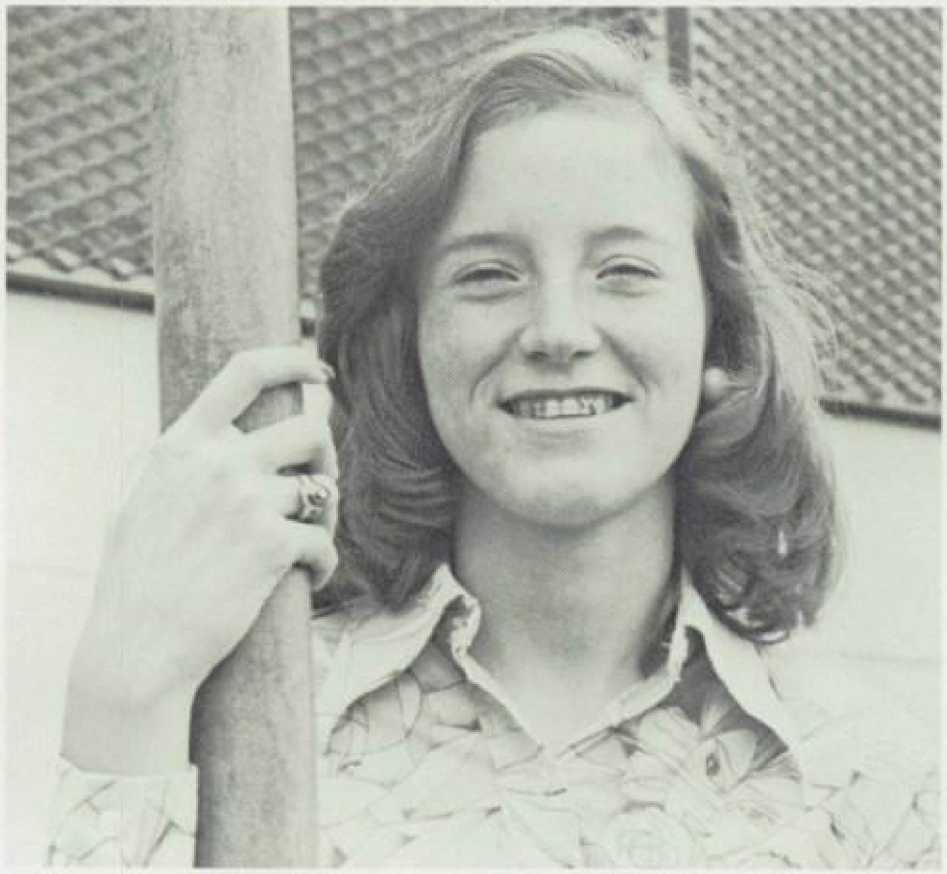
Boys' State

David Carter

Sponsored by the American Legion, the Boys' State Award is given to a rising Senior male. David Carter was selected from Garinger to attend a week long session held at Wake Forest University.

While there, David learned more about local and state government. The boys were put into political situations, such as city planning and elections which they had to work out themselves. David reported: "You really do not have to be interested in politics to enjoy the experience."

Bicentennial Minute



Sandra Mills

The Shell Oil Company this year sponsored a Bicentennial essay contest for high school seniors.

The contestants were required to write a bicentennial minute for possible use later on one of the television segments of the same name.

The judges, who included a local television broadcaster, a Garinger English teacher and a student representative, had to observe factors such as specified time length and content in their selections.

Chosen from many worthy entries was Sandra Mills' essay. This successful minute concerned events at the Continental Congress the month before the Declaration of Independence. Within a contest that was nation-wide — Sandra's winning entry progressed to the state level for competition.

D. A. R., Rennsalaer, Sewanee Awards

Patty Cheek received the Sewanee and the Rensselaer awards in the spring of 1975. The Sewanee award is presented by the Univerity of the South in Sewanee, Tennessee. The award is given on the basis of exceptional demonstration of scholarship, citizenship, and character. The Rensselaer is awarded by Rensselaer University in New York. Patty received this honor on the basis of her outstanding performances in mathematics and science.

The D.A.R. award is given to the Junior girl who shows the most leadership, patriotism, citizenship and dependability. It was presented to Jill Gardner on Honors and Awards Day last spring. She was chosen by the girls in her Senior class. Jill commented that she was very surprised and that it was a pleasure to receive such an honor. She received a pin along with the certificate explaining the meaning of the award.

"Remember, remember always, that all of us — and you and I especially — are descended from immigrants and revolutionists."

Project Aries has third successful year

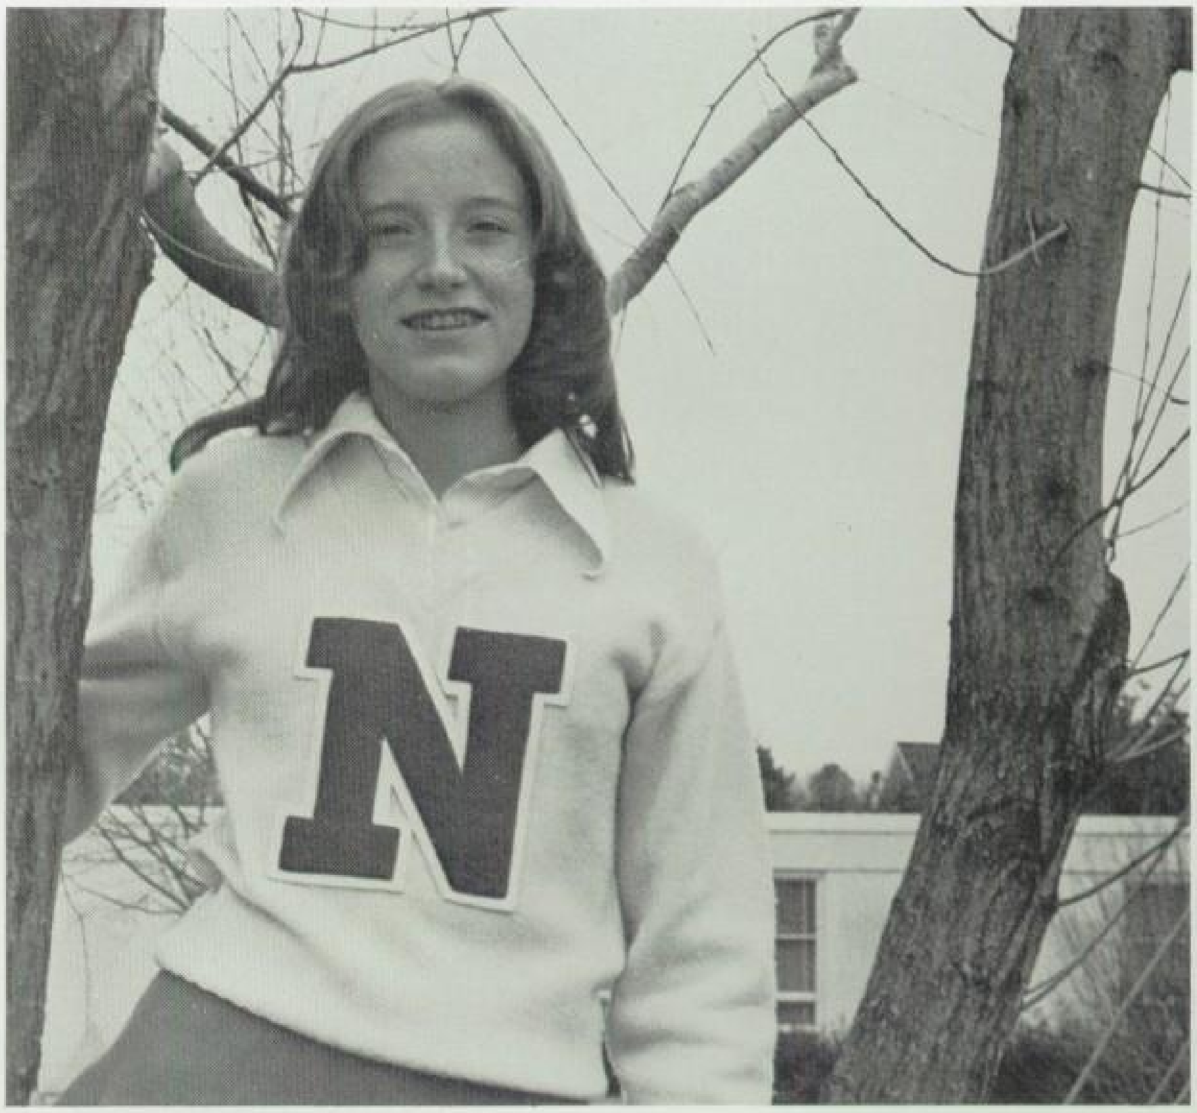
Top to Bottom: Barbara Bass, Chairman; Sandra Alexander, Assistant Chairman; Bobby Bennett, Region I Coordinator.

Project Aries is a human relations organization which involves the entire Charlotte Mecklenburg School System. The program at Garinger consists of four task force members and seventeen associate members. These students are divided into three junior high schools in Garinger's feeder district. The three junior high schools that Garinger works with are Hawthorne, Eastway and Cochrane.

This past summer the Project Aries task force members Barbara Bass, Sandra Alexander, Bobby Bennett, and Rayford McClain attended Millstone 4-H camp in Ellerbe, NC. The week spent at camp provided them with the skills they needed to know to be able to help the junior high schools whenever they were called upon. They were trained by two members of Management Manpower Associates. The associate members were then trained at a workshop after school started. Several retreats were held during the school year for more training and to discuss problems that arose within the different schools.

National Merit Finalist

Garinger senior Sandra Mills represented the school as a semi-finalist in the National Merit Scholarship Competitions. 15,000 students throughout the country were named as semi-finalists in this program. Sandra qualified for this position by scoring 1310 on her PSAT in 1974. The National Merit Scholarship is sponsored by various businesses and corporations. The scholarship is valued at $1,000, with the possible exception of four year scholarships to be given out by certain businesses.



Voice of Democracy

The twenty-ninth annual Voice of Democracy contest was held this past year. Any student is eligible provided he is willing to present a speech on a given topic to a panel of judges. This year's topic was "What Our Bicentennial Means To Me". Senior Sylvester Brooks won the competition by presenting the idea that we must not dwell on the past but rather look towards the future for a greater America.

Second place was taken by Cyndi Prevette who described the contest as an effective spirit that exists within the younger generation.

Garinger's Foreign Students

This past year Garinger did not formally participate in the traditional foreign exchange program. Yet, as if to supplement this lack, Garinger was host to four foreign students. These students were Ida Pintor, Barbara Rothenbuhler, Un Ju Song, and Thomas Tomzak. Only Ida Pintor, who came from Chile, actually participated in an exchange program. She stayed at Garinger for only a few days, then transferred to Bennettsville, S.C.

Barbara Rothenbuhler is a native of Switzerland. There she had completed her secondary education but had to wait until she was 18 to begin training in her chosen occupation. Consequently, she decided to come to the United States to study. Barbara noted that American schools were much easier than the European ones she attended. This was the general concensus of all the students.

Un Ju Song from Korea noted that American math courses were not as extensive as those in Korea. Un Ju immigrated to the United States for other educational reasons and is now living with her two sisters.

Thomas Tomzak first came to the United States from Germany as a tourist. He liked the States well enough to move in with his uncle for a year to attend American schools. Thomas says that so far, he still likes it here but cites age requirements for certain recreational activities as a definite negative point.

When these students return to their lands, let us hope we have helped to make their stay enriching.

Jeanne Klein President of WDNASC

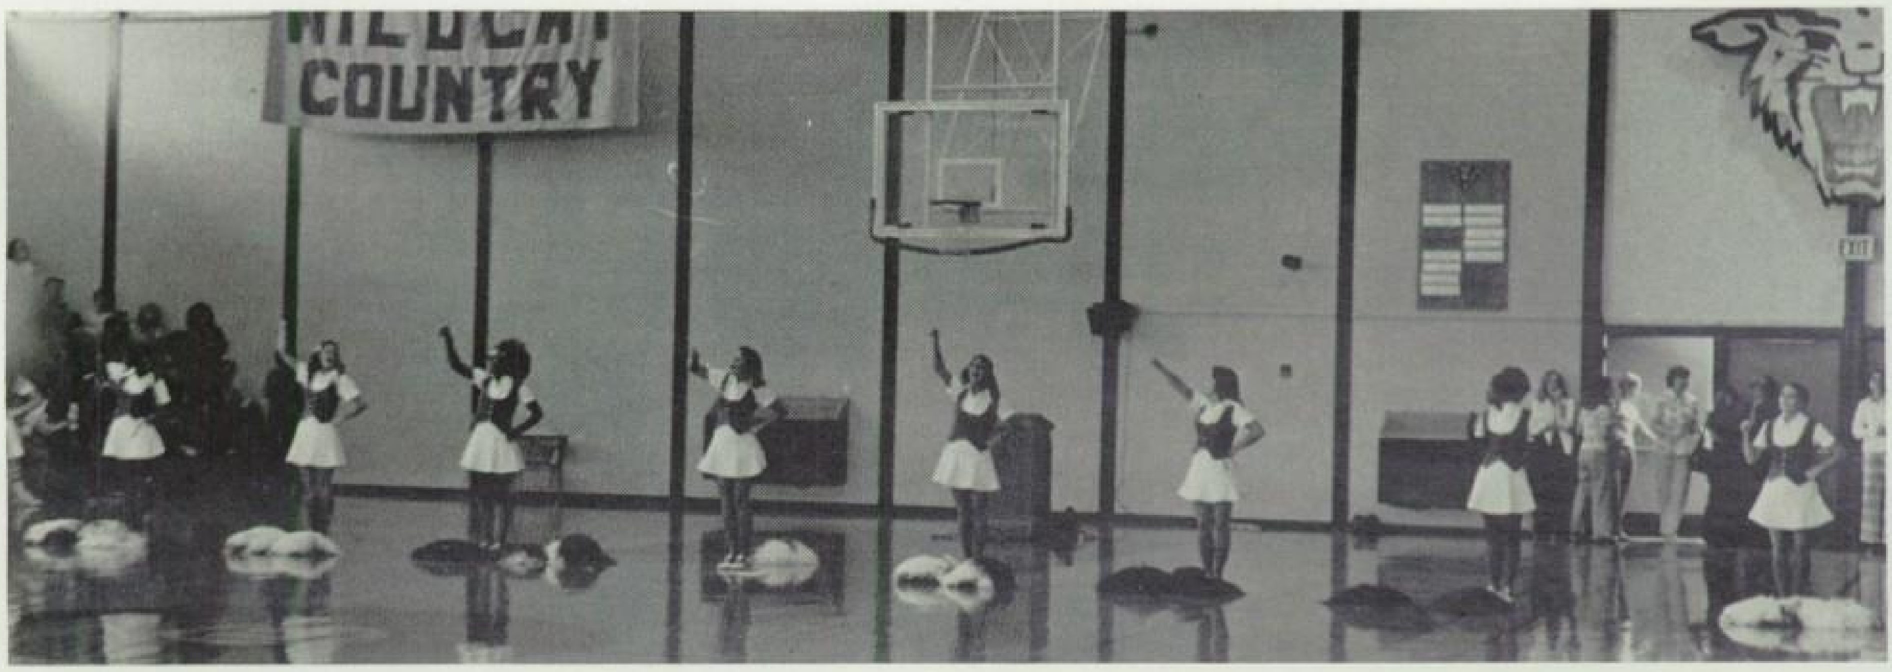
The 75-76 president of the Western District of the North Carolina Association of Student Councils was none other than Garinger's own Jeanne Klein.

She achieved this by being chosen by delegates of the Western District Conference.

While president, she represented 100 schools from 32 counties on the NCASC state board and at a convention in Atlanta during the summer.

In summing up her experience Jeanne said that it had been a lot of responsibility, but she learned much about people and the workings of other student councils.

Boosting School Spirit



The school spirit during the athletic seasons was boosted by the aid of our pep rallies. The cheerleaders, lettergirls, and the pep band combined their efforts to present an atmosphere of booming spirit. Cheers and performed skits led up to the introduction of the various teams to the student body. The varsity basketball team performed at one pep rally giving the students a preview of what was to come.

Each pep rally was closed by the singing of our alma mater which always left the students feeling proud to be a part of Garinger.

Cronkite Speaks At Convocation

l-r: Will Parks, Walter Cronkite, and Beth Rodgers.

The 1975 WBTV High School Convocation was held November 8 in Ovens Auditorium.

This year's speaker was CBS news commentator, Walter Cronkite. In his speech Mr. Cronkite challenged his audience to get involved in a revolution in which each young American is destined to play a part.

His message dealt primarily with this revolution which he sees occurring in America today. According to him this revolution is "caused by man's aspirations, hope, dreams, and his chances of achieving them".

After his talk Mr. Cronkite answered questions presented to him by a specially selected student panel. Three of the six panel members were Garinger students. They were Jeanne Klein, Will Parks, Beth Rogers.

There was also a selected group of Charlotte Mecklenburg students who attended a luncheon and a seminar with Mr. Cronkite.

After saying that "we are standing on the brink of a profound change, we are faced with such a list of problems, . . ." Mr. Cronkite left the audience with the thought, "you are going to make things work".

Homecoming

Homecoming week, September 29 through October 4, featured numerous activities for the student body. Spirit chains were sold in homeroom for five cents a link. Homerooms with the longest chains were recognized Friday at the pep rally.

The Miss Black and Blue pageant was a part of the week's celebration. A homecoming dance was held on Friday night. Garinger clubs created a variety of banners supporting their school for homecoming. All were displayed at Memorial Stadium for the game, along with the spirit chains.

Gail Baucom was named Garinger's homecoming queen for 1975-76 by the senior members of the football team. Other members of the court were Margaret Hardin, sponsoring Robin Paul and escorted by Raeford Kirkpatrick; Bronwyn Poplin, sponsoring Johnny Green and escorted by Timmy Lowery and Sherry Winchester, sponsoring and escorted by Doug Riley.

Midsummer Night's Dream

By: William Shakespeare

In February, the drama department produced the Shakespearean comedy "A Midsummer Night's Dream" under the direction of Bill Kinsey.

The performance was a product of hard work and determination of the actors. The members presented the play with such a capacity that they not only showed their capabilities of fine performances but also gained the admiration and respect of their peers.

The success of the play along with its brilliance makes Garinger proud to have such a creative drama department.

Playing the part of Nick Bottom, the weaver, Tim Gill showed great acting potential.

Allman Brothers Judge Beauties

The Allman Brothers Band consented to judge Garinger's class beauties this year. Of all their many recordings, the one that brought them the most acclaim was "Win, Lose, or Draw".

The Allman Brothers Band gave a performance on January 18 at the Charlotte Coliseum. The show was well attended and performed. The Allman Brothers decisions as to Garinger's class beauties are as follows:

CARROUSEL PRINCESS
Garinger

Jill Gardner is Carrousel Princess

Jill Gardner was selected as Garinger's 1975 Carrousel Princess by the senior class. She represented Garinger in the annual Carrousel Christmas parade. Princesses are chosen from many area high schools and participate in a number of activities.

The primary goal of each princess is to achieve the honor of serving as Queen of the Carrousel Parade. The selection is made on the basis of grace, poise, and beauty.

Jill noted that one of her most humorous moments as princess came when her crown fell off while laughing hysterically during a formal banquet. She described her experience of being princess as "a riot".

Helen Pauls is crowned 1976 Valentine Queen

Helen Pauls was crowned the Rambler's 1976 Valentine Queen during halftime of the Garinger—North basketball game, Friday, February 13. She received a bouquet of red roses and a box of Valentine candy.

The court consisted of seniors, Susie Cable and Sheila Smith; juniors, Margaree Hill and Debbie Martin; sophomores, Rhonda McKnight and Lorna Smith. They received a single red rose.

This marked the seventh annual crowning of a Valentine Queen by the Rambler staff. In their selection the Rambler staff took into consideration the girls' personality, beauty, and honors and awards they had received.

SNIPS and CUTS

Despite all the break-ins the annual room encountered, the staff managed to put together one of the best annuals ever. Five of the staffers and advisor, Ms. Grisdale, went to a workshop at Furman University for one week during the summer. These people brought back many new ideas, especially for the bicentennial year.

Some of the differences in the annual this year include: changing the color of the cover from the every year blue and gray to an old-timey beige, the senior section being in color for the first time, and the many hours spent on the headlines for the activities section, which involved cutting out and putting each letter in place with an exacto knife and ruler.

There were four photographers assigned to the staff due to the great need of pictures. Sherry Winchester was placed in charge of photographic equipment because of her knowledge and experience in the field of photography.

The unfortunate sickness of editor, Debra Neville, put a lot of responsibility on staff members and Ms. Jean Grisdale. However, when Debra returned the staff was relieved to have her guidance and support once again.

Ms. Jean Grisdale receives surprise for Christmas from the annual staff.

UNDER THE WILLOW TREE

Garinger's literary magazine, "Under the Willow Tree", brought us another great year of poems, literature and art.

This magazine was organized to give students a chance to see their own work published. All students are encouraged to submit samples of their poetry, literature or art, and the staff publishes those chosen that show real talent.

During the year, "Under the Willow Tree", a nonprofit organization, held a successful drive in order to give all the students a chance to purchase the magazine. A new aspect of the organization this year was a monthly poster. This "poster of the month" was a selection from previous copies of "Under the Willow Tree" with illustrations. This kept the club in contact with the students.

The students of Garinger look forward to another successful magazine next year.

RAMBLER

Sitting: John Holloway, Cheryl McCullough, Susie Maag; Standing: Cindy Williams, Jody Jones.

In a newsbreaking year, the young but award winning Rambler staff strove to broaden press coverage and provide indepth insight into a diversity of events. One Rambler article critically investigated the controversial finance system at Garinger. Another exposed the dangerously high level of student alcohol abuse. The People In Action column focused an intense look into problem areas of national interest such as Appalachian renewal, spreading hunger and the hotly debated issues behind the damming of North Carolina's New River.

Backed by the photography of Greg Porter, and Ginny Walters, and the art work of Jody Jones, editors Susie Maag, Cheryl McCullough and Bobby Bennett managed the staff's articles as they broke. The editors consistently depended upon the fresh, accurate and extensive reporting of Linda Martin, Susan Larsen, Gale Barber, John Holloway, and Sally Stone. The staff's finances and advertising were controlled by second year staffer, Cyndy Williams.

Faced with a majority of new staffers, Ms. Marie Lewis, (a former Rambler editor, herself) shaped the Rambler staff with experience, skill and patience.

The student council sponsored many assemblies throughout the year.

The Executive Committee this year got an early start in working out activities for the 1975-76 school year. The Student Council gave a luncheon for the faculty and administration for their understanding and cooperation that was given through the years.

The activities sponsored by this committee for the year 1975-76 were Miss Black & Blue, Big Brothers and Sisters program to welcome sophomores, Homecoming Dance, a Halloween party for the students at the center for human development, homeroom spirit chain competition, a concert, and assemblies for Thanksgiving, Christmas, and Easter, all of which took careful planning and hard work. What made this committee one of the best Garinger has had is a combination of experience, determination, and cooperation.

Supplying the guidance needed in the Student Council and the Executive Committee was Miss Nan Abell.

The Spanish Club consisted of students interested in being involved in different activities relating to the life styles of the Spanish people. They took part in a Christmas party for the third graders at Winterfield Elementary School. They sang Christmas songs in Spanish, hung pinatas, and enjoyed refreshments.

The Spanish Club met several times during the year to enjoy a delicious night of Tacos at Pedros.

The club, under the guidance of Ms. Schliestett, was very successful.

FRANCO — PRUSSIAN

This year Garinger's French and German clubs combined and formed a new club: The Franco-Prussians. The members of this club are all Fench and German students who wish to participate in extracurricular French and German activities. A few of the events which the club participated in this year were a foreign festival, a love feast, a trip to Six Flags Over Georgia, and they took part in the First Annual Kite Flying Championship.

The club was under the guidance of Ms. Hall and Mr. Vaughan, and the Grand Potentate was Fraulein Cathy Bogle. The lucky mascots this year for the French students were crepe suzettes, and for the German students it was schweinwurst.

Officers: Pam Rion, Vice-President; Cheryl Smith, President; Susan Wentz, Secretary; Paulette Redfern, Treasurer.

Bible II is a continuation of Bible I. In Bible I the first five books of the Bible and the four Gospels teaching the life of Christ are studied. Bible I provides a strong background for Bible II.

Bible II is the year of further study of the Old and New Testaments. The Psalms, Proverbs, and many of the books of the Prophets are taught. The letters to the newly formed churches of different cities including Romans, Acts, and Ephesians are read and analyzed during 2nd semester.

Bible II is used to give the members of the class an opportunity to have a more in-depth study and understanding of the word of God. It is a course in which every person gains some degree of personal development and spiritual growth.

Ms. Janet Robinson first started teaching Bible at Central High School 40 years ago. She said she has enjoyed teaching these past few years more than ever.

GARINGER CLUB

Officers: Nancy Jerrell, Alan Sizemore, Jan Stack.

The members of the Garinger Club, a service club only in its second year, consider school pride one of the most important parts of student life. They therefore organized themselves in order to beautify the school, so that the entire student body would be proud of it.

This club is open to all interested sophomores, juniors, and seniors. Although the club has been rather small in the past it has made great improvements for the school.

This year's main activity of the Garinger Club was restoring the fountain and the clock.

Under the guidance of Mrs. Hawn, the Garinger Club has proven that it is a fast growing club that's planning on making even more "cat tracks" next year.

One of the many organizations which helped boost school spirit this past year was the Wildcat Club. They did this through nonprofit sales and by school participation. One of the many items they sold to boost spirit was the "ever-boosting" booster badges. During the football and basketball seasons students were able to purchase these badges through their homerooms. These badges helped the athletes know that their fellow students were 100% behind them.

Football and basketball buttons were also sold during these seasons. The buttons, loved by the students, showed our opponents how we "back the cats."

During the year the club sold Garinger license plates and wildcat T-shirts. The members also sponsored the buses to the away games, and made posters for all athletic events.

Under the guidance of Ms. Bennett and the presidency of Barbara Bass, Garinger's Wildcat Club, once again, climbed up the ladder to success.

ECOLOGY CLUB

With today's polluted environment and apathy it is a great relief to know that there are still people around who care about their environment. Some of these people make up Garinger's Ecology Club. Their main purpose as an organization is to become aware of the fact that we must conserve in our environment. The club is open to students in all grades interested in ecology.

This year Garinger's Ecology Club, under the leadership of Max Henderson and guidance of Mr. Dixon, improved our environment in many different ways. They took up an aluminum collection, and provided returnable bottles for all of Garinger's soft drink machines. One of their main activities was helping to run the recycling center located across the street from Garinger. The recycling center is used for glass, cans, paper and metal.

INTERACT

Interact, a service club exclusively for young men, was led by Ned Yates this year. Although the club was on shakey ground for awhile at the beginning of the year, the club came through in the end. They supported school spirit by painting posters for athletic events which backed the 'Cats. Also, the club members sold Garinger pennants, and during the year the club had an Ugly Man on campus contest. This year the lucky sweethearts were Jeanne Klein, Gail Baucom, and Sherry Cude, and the advisor was Mr. Rogers.

This year Garinger's Key Club was as wild and successful as ever. They held their annual kapers and band nights, as well as being just naturally "crazy".

Other services to the school included being responsible for and running the concessions and ticket booth at all of the home functions and for extended day school.

It wasn't hard to find a Key club service this past year at football games because it was sitting on every lettergirl's and cheerleader's shoulder. It was the corsages that were provided with a red rose or two every now and then for a "special" girl.

As money-making projects, the Key club sponsored the toboggan, bumper-sticker, and booster badge sales.

The Key club is open to all men at Garinger wishing to be members. The applicants are voted on by current members of the club.

KEYETTES

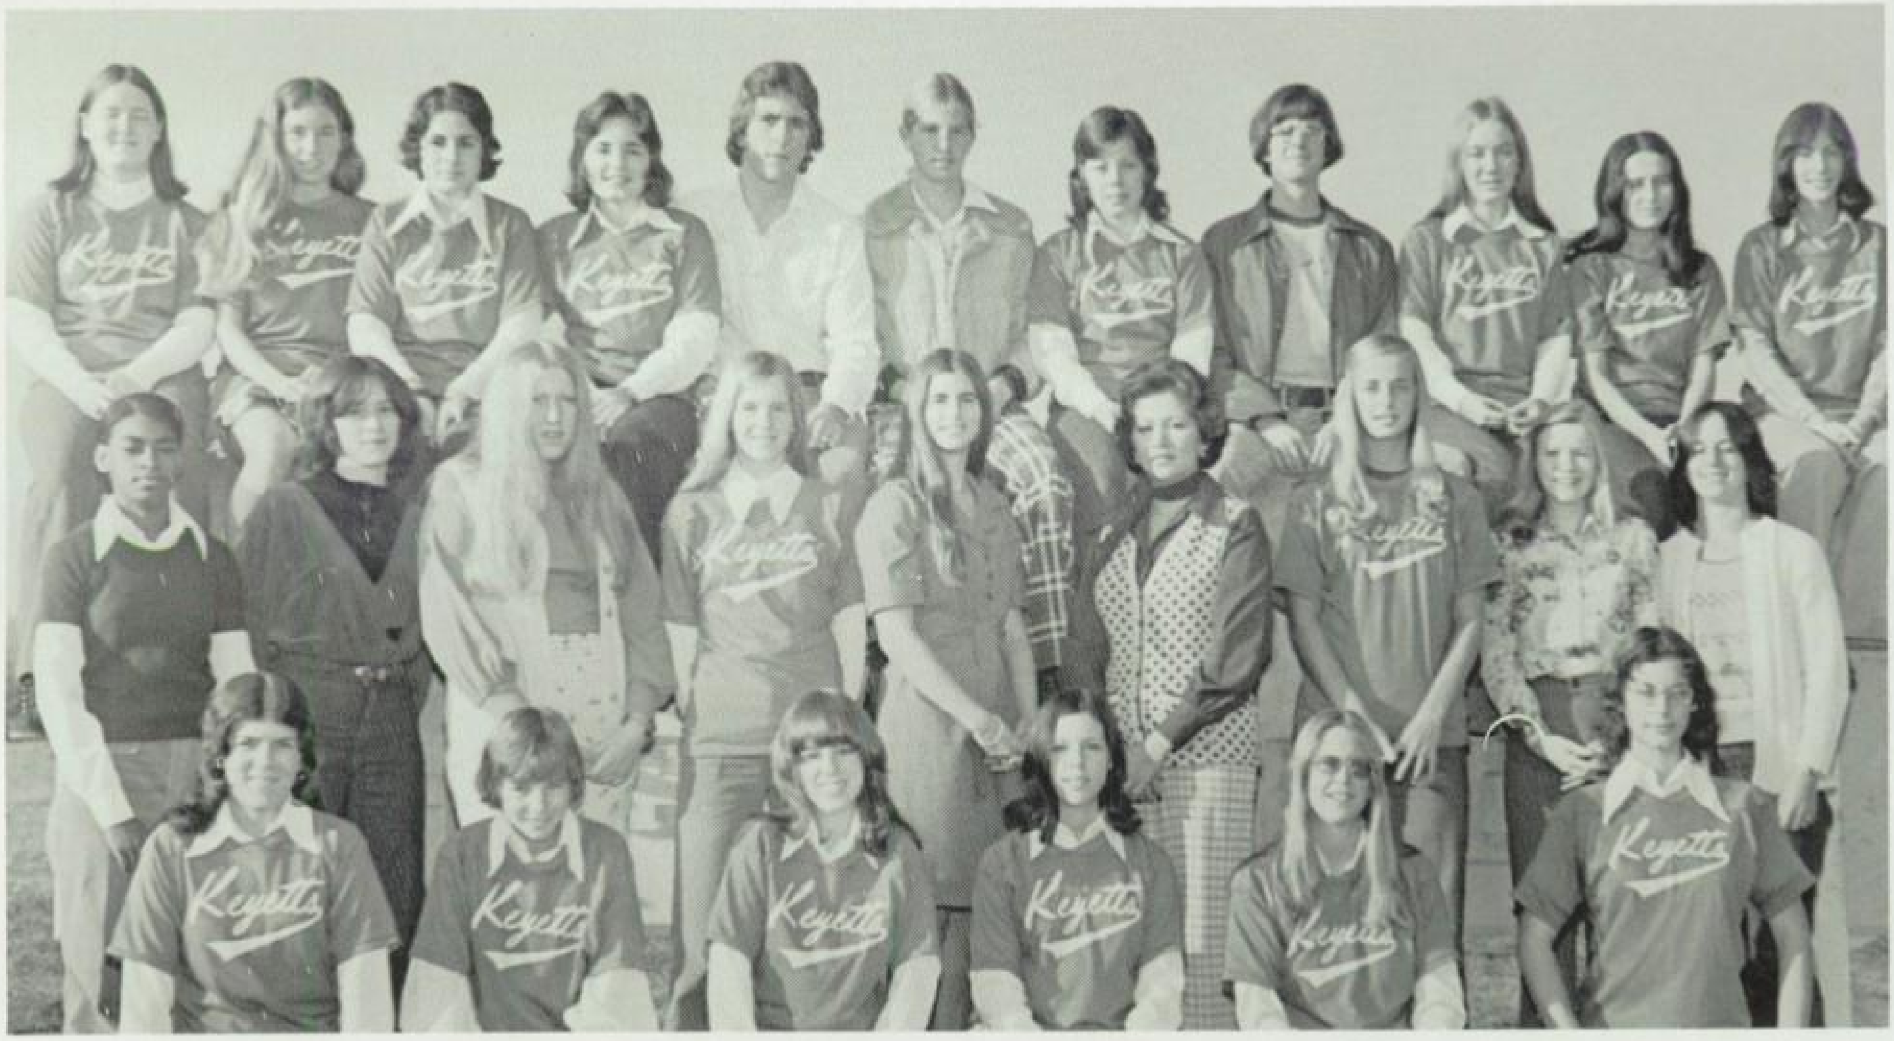
The Keyettes, the sister club of the Key club, is a service club of the school and community. They serve the school by improving the school and its spirit, and they serve the community by devoting their time and energy toward improving the world in which they live.

They served Garinger this year in many ways. They began with their annual teacher's tea. This was given at the beginning of the year during a teachers' workday. The girls provided the teachers with refreshments in order to make their workday a little more enjoyable. Also, they gave a Halloween party for the children at Presbyterian Hospital. They decorated all of the children's rooms and gave each of them their own personal jack o' lantern. During Thanksgiving and Christmas they had another party for needy children, and also went Christmas caroling.

The Keyettes also helped to boost school spirit by sponsoring the soccer team. They supported them throughout the entire season and held a soccer banquet at the end. They boosted school spirit by selling bumper stickers and Garinger buttons. Through these sales one may now see "Garinger Spirit" on cars and lapels wherever one goes.

As another money-making project they sold candy to all of the starving students.

Under a new advisor this year, Ms. Hernandez, they had a very successful year and plan on many more in the future.



Front Row: Janet Lloyd, Jody Jones, Susie Maag, Susan Hatley, Dawne Bost, Noel Petrea. Second Row: Teresa Rorie, Dorry Kirby, Sandy McGuire, Sarah Ruth, Judy Grice, Ms. Hernandez, Sharon O'Neill, Patty Cheek, Leslie Eudy. This year Centrusa had a very successful year. Their main objective was to serve the school and the community. They did this in many ways.

The girls started the year off by entering the "spirit week" poster contest for the homecoming game and leaving with first prize. The poster illustrated how the 'Cats were going to "Stomp Those Mangy Mustangs".

Centrusa also sponsored the basketball team and provided posters for all of the games. As in the past years, they also gave the team a banquet at the end of the season.

Another service to the school was cleaning the trophy cases in the 300 & 200 buildings.

Also this year they had their annual "powder-puff" football game against GGS in the fall. Although they came in second once again, the girls all agreed it was great fun. They also planned a "donkey basketball" game for the spring, to replace their annual basketball game and to provide enjoyment for everyone.

During the holidays the girls tried to make the season seem brighter for those less fortunate. For Halloween they gave a party for children at a nursery. The girls brought the children candy for the holiday and played games with them. During Christmas they donated food and clothes to children in the mountains under the care of the "Parsons of the Hills". These extremely poor children received much needed gifts. For Thanksgiving they helped a needy family, and during Easter time they collected for the heart fund and went to a home for the elderly. Through these services the girls brightened the holidays for many people.

For the girls own enjoyment they had cookouts, parties, and their annual beach trip.

In order to raise money they sold banners which helped to raise school spirit, and they also sold candy, and had a car wash in the spring and fall.

Twice a year they held a tea for all girls interested in joining. The tea provided a time for the members to get acquainted with the applicants and to have fun.

Their mascots this year were Scott Smith and Alan Williams.

The club gained another advisor this year, Mrs. Katzel, who, along with Miss Potts, led the club through another successful year.

The Adelphian club is organized exclusively for sophomore girls. Each year many sophomore girls try out for this club only to meet their ever famous initiation.

Strange looking girls appeared at Garinger last year right after first and third quarters. They came to school creatively dressed by the old Adelphian members. Most wore bath robes, unmatched socks and shoes, curlers and tons of make-up. Although this was a welcome change for some of them, they returned to "normal" the next day.

Adelphians is a girls' service club. As money-making projects they sold valentine carnations, candles, candy and had a car wash. This money went to sponsoring a family at Christmas, and a beach trip. In the past year they played basketball games against GGS and Centrusa. They came out on top with Centrusa but they didn't quite make it with GGS. As a service to the community they had a Halloween party for Alexander Children's Home, where ghosts and goblins made a surprise visit. They also supported the Heart Fund by collecting during their annual drive.

This past year the club was led by Wanda Carbaugh, under the guidance of Mrs. Jane Boyd, and the mascots were Robert Johnson and Chip Saunders.

GGS

The Girls' Good Sports Club, more commonly known as GGS, is a girls' club whose main purpose is to serve the school. This year, under the supervision of Miss Hall, they accomplished this in many ways.

They sponsored the football team and made posters for all of the games. In order to raise money, they sold shampoo at the beginning of the year, and during the Homecoming Game they sold balloons and corsages. They sent part of the money earned to help support a child in Morganton, North Carolina.

During Thanksgiving they gave a meal to the Bowden family, and at Christmas time the family received presents from the girls.

They collected for the Heart Fund again this year, and in May they planned their annual beach trip.

Twice this year, GGS held a tea for all girls interested in joining. Through the tea they got to know the applicants better and they provided refreshments and entertainment for them.

Determined to keep the title of "The Most Active Club at Garinger," GGS worked hard this year and they were great in helping to boost school spirit.

SKI CLUB

This year Garinger's ski club or Polar Cats adopted a new name: "Winter Sports". They changed their name because the club expanded its activities from just skiing. They now also include ice skating, sledding, and any other winter sports the club members are interested in doing.

The Winter Sports club provided Garinger's students this year with the opportunity to learn and enjoy safely the fundamentals of skiing. Throughout the year they planned skiing and ice skating trips. Instructions were provided for those who did not know how to ski or skate; those who did know how were allowed to go ahead and develop their skills.

In order to cut the cost of the trips, money-making projects were carried out. They also had a Christmas party and a spring feast.

The membership of the club is open to anyone interested in any of these sports.

The function of Garinger's Red Cross Club is to serve the American Red Cross. This year's activities began with the annual enrollment drive. For the enrollment drive the students donated money to the Red Cross and received a small Red Cross pin to wear. The money went to help needy families all over America.

This year many members of the Red Cross Club volunteered their services to the Red Cross center in Charlotte. They assisted the nurses in small duties and helped to cheer up the patients.

As in the past years, the Red Cross helped to make the holidays a little more cheerful to some of those less fortunate. During Thanksgiving they held a food basket drive, which was a great success. All of the donated food went to the local orphanages. At Christmas time they went caroling at nursing homes hoping to bring that "Christmas Spirit" to those not able to go home for the holiday.

During the spring they carried out their annual Easter project. They visited day care centers and helped celebrate the arrival of the Easter Bunny with the children. Also, during the spring, they had their annual blood drive, which again, as in past years, was a complete success.

The Garinger Red Cross Club, whose motto is "Youth serves Youth", has certainly proven that Garinger's Youth are number one.

LETTER

The Lettergirls of Garinger, headed by co-captains, Susan Nicholson and Sandra Mills, include fourteen girls who participate with the Marching Band during football season and occasionally at basketball games with the Pep Band.

The positions are competitive each year and the final audition is performed for a committee headed by Dr. Maddox. The auditions are based on marching skill, appearance, grace, and sincerity of purpose.

The Lettergirls also serve as ushers and hostesses at any performance by the music department.

MARCHING

The Garinger Marching Band is composed of members from both the Symphonic and the Concert Bands. To be accepted, one must pass the audition tests of skill and memory given by Dr. Maddox.

The students in this musical organization prepare, perfect, and present their drills at football games to help promote school spirit.

During the 1975 season the band performed at all the Garinger football games. They represented Garinger in the Carrousel Parade. They also gave performances at the Shrine Bowl and during a Davidson College half-time show.

They were scheduled to perform at the World Football League game, Charlotte against Hawaii, but due to unforeseeable demise of the WFL, the games were all cancelled. The Marching Band was an active part of Garinger's fall life.

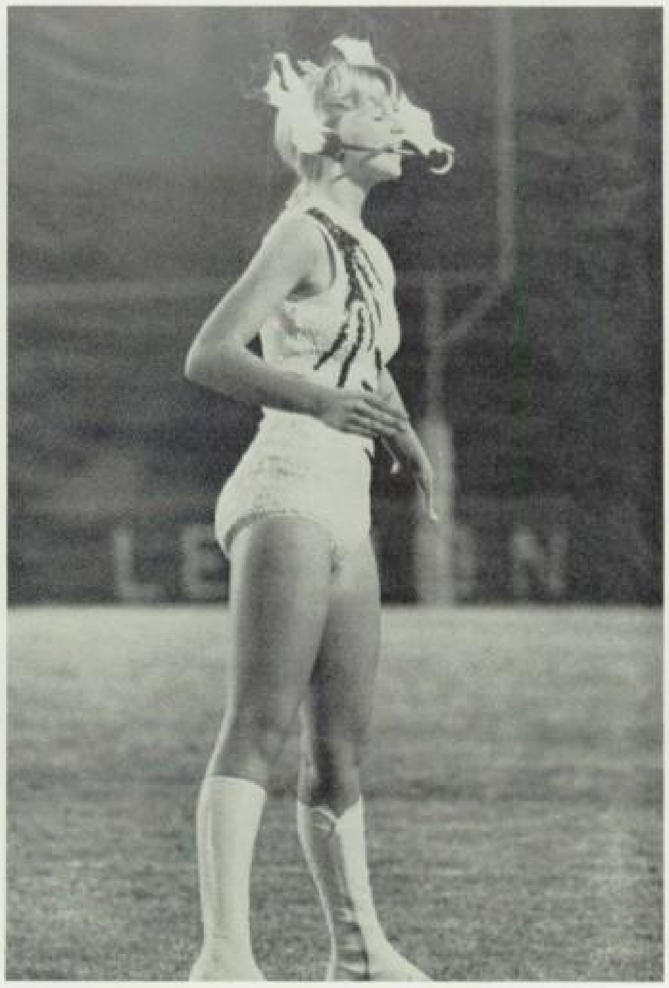
BAND & TWIRLERS

Drum Majorettes: Voneda Knight, Beth Rodgers



Joy uses fire in nighttime routine

Joy Hardee, Cheryl McCullough, Cindi Prevette

The Twirlers are highly skilled individuals who compete each year through try-outs. In order to be eligible for a position, the girls must spend time at an approved summer training camp. Auditions, based on NBTA rules and given by Dr. Maddox, are based on skill, showmanship, poise, grace, and personality. The Twirlers spend many weeks on their routines and must continue to practice as they perform throughout the football season.

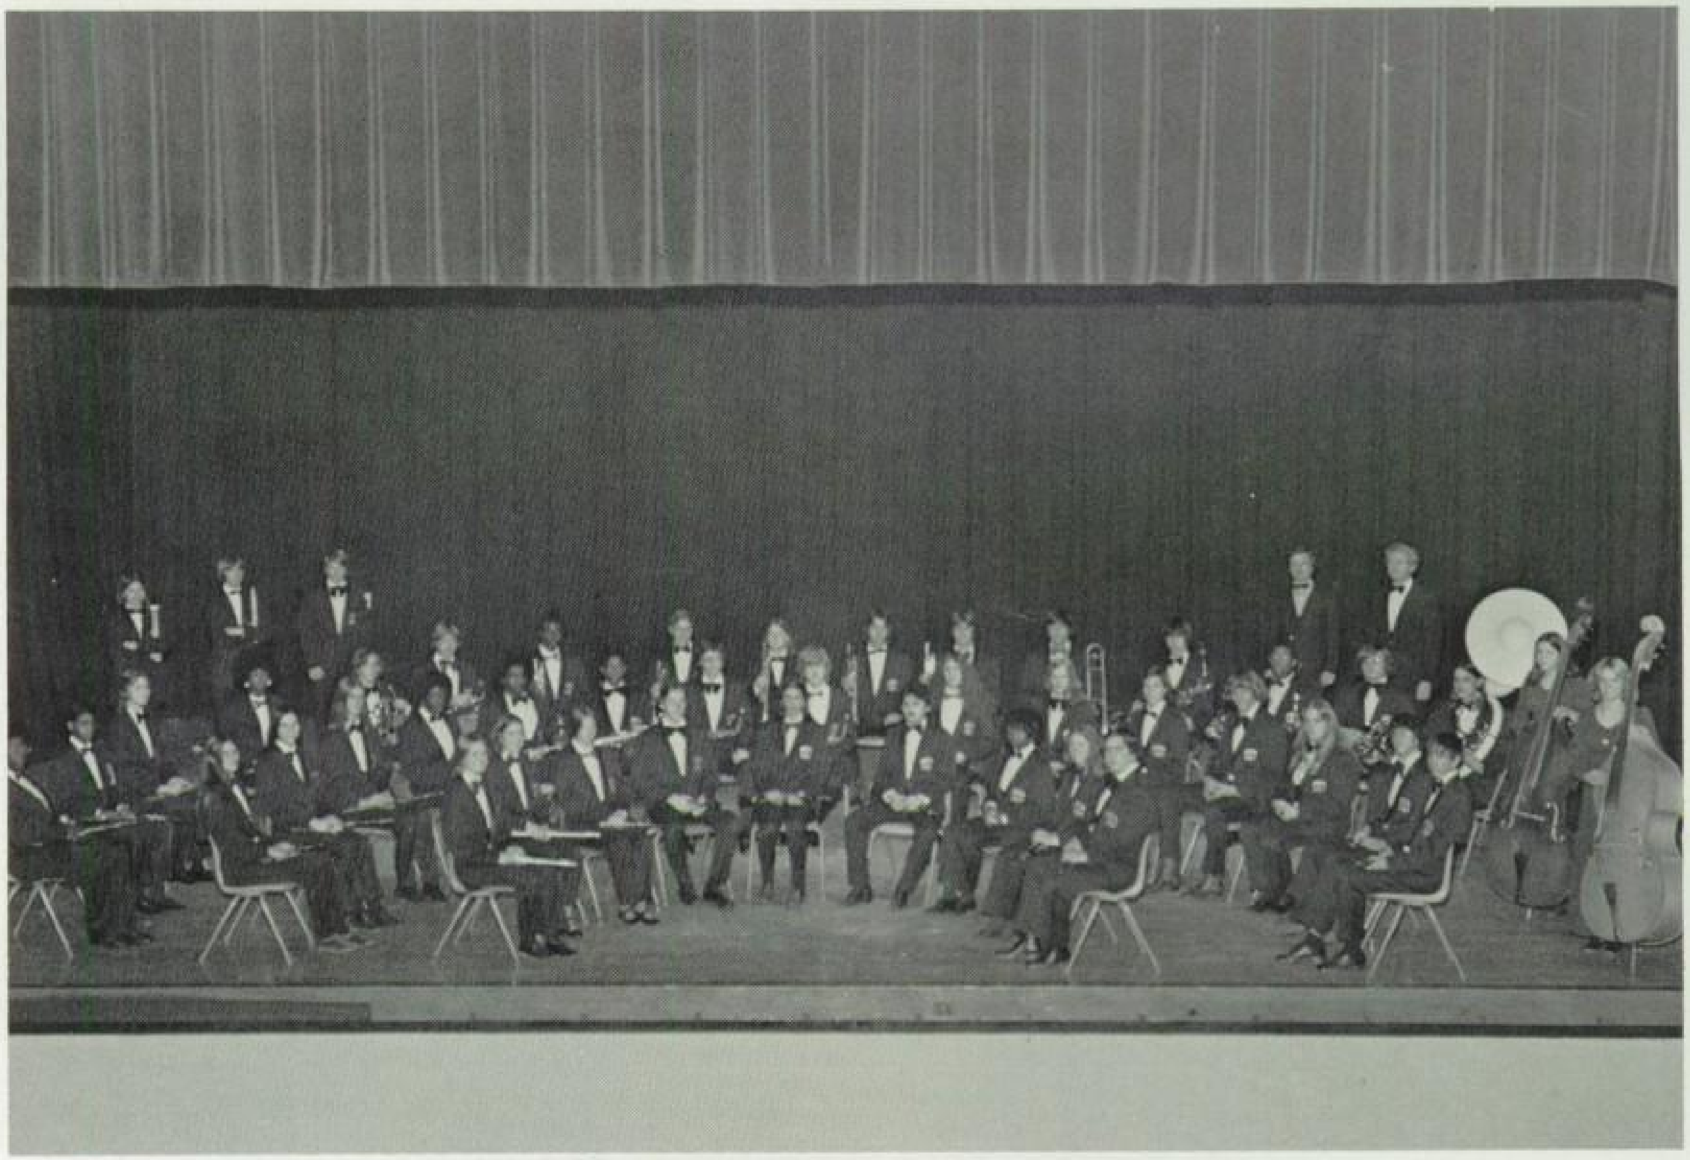
SYMPHONIC BAND

The Symphonic Band is made up mainly of juniors and seniors though a few talented sophomores are admitted. Membership into this band is based on auditions or recommendations by Dr. Maddox. Acceptance is usually attained after the student demonstrates his skill on his instrument during his sophomore year.

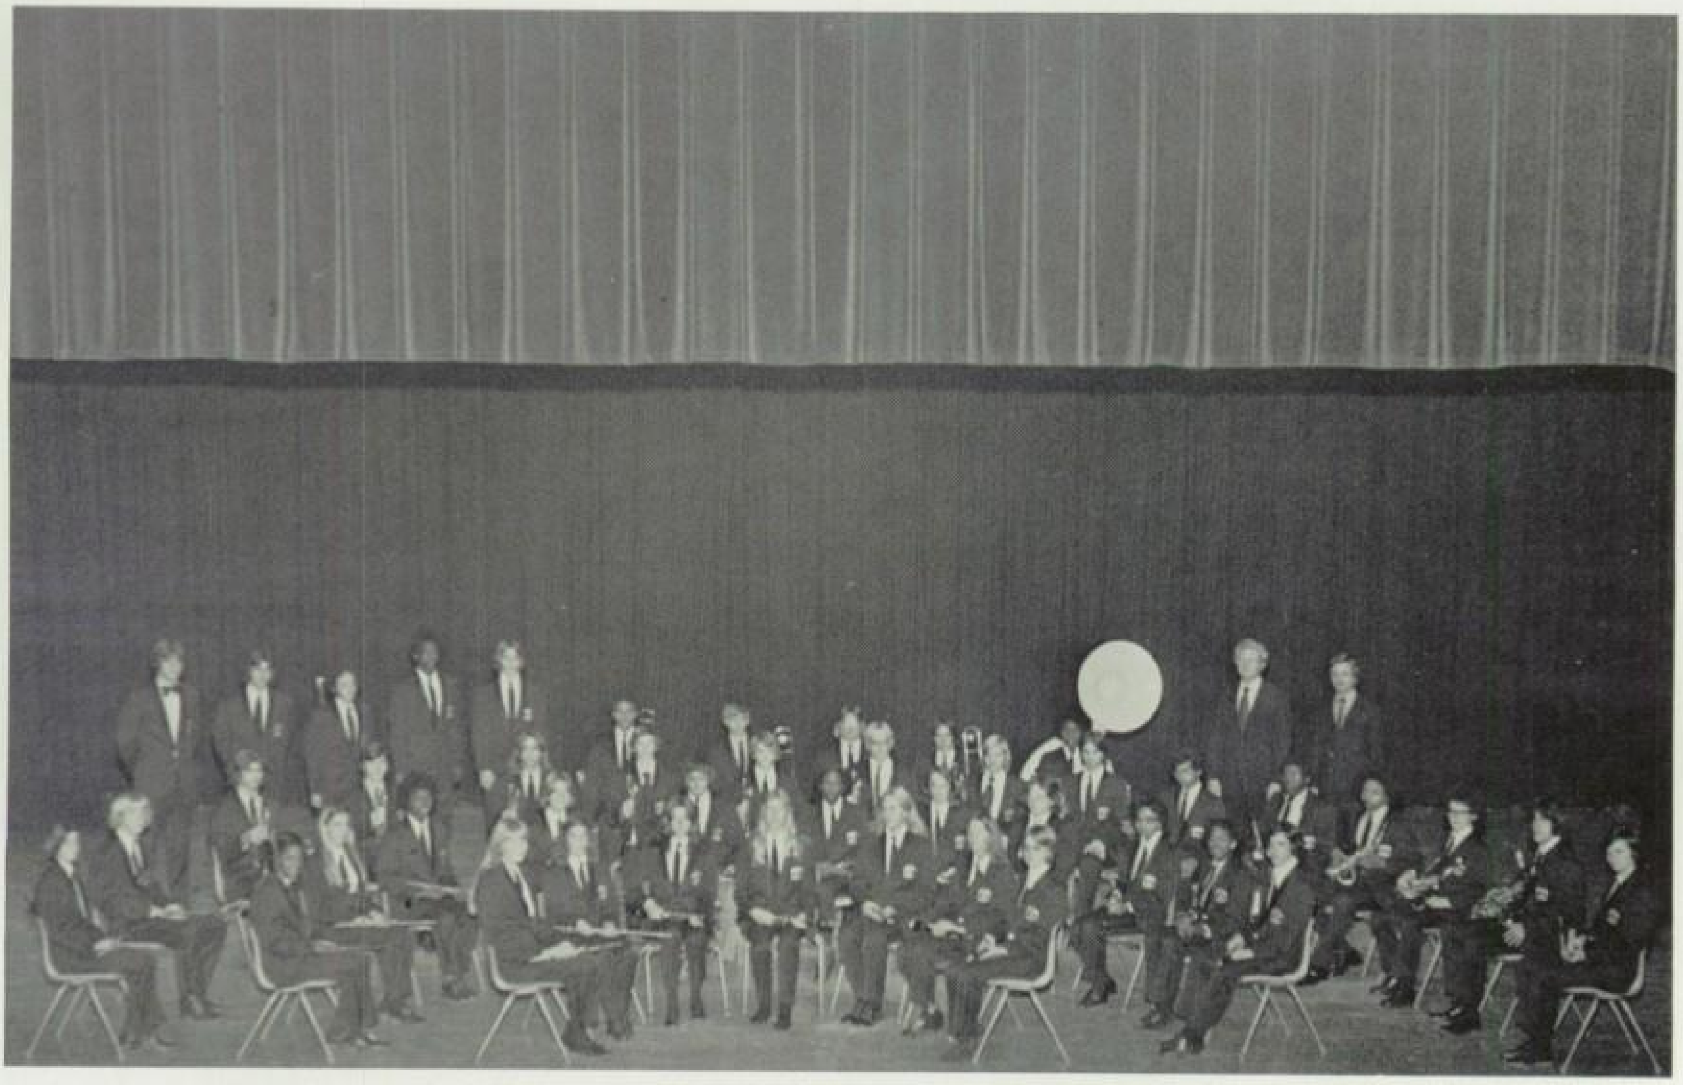
The Symphonic Band performs a number of concerts annually and their music represents main historic periods and styles of composition.

Their concerts and assemblies offer them experience in maturing their musicianship.

Each spring the Symphonic Band attends the State Festival to perform in competition with all North Carolina bands.



CONCERT BAND



Students hard at work pursuing the goals for musicianship.

The Concert Band, as do all the other instrumental organizations at Garinger, pursues the goal of developing skill and the building of fundamental understanding needed to perform music effectively.

Sophomores are assigned to Concert Band. Concert Band helps students develop skills in preparation for Symphonic Band.

ORCHESTRA

The Garinger Symphonic Orchestra is made up of most of the standard orchestral instruments. Many wind players volunteer their lunch period to help out the orchestra and add to their own experience.

Through an annual number of concerts, the orchestra pursues artistic maturity and also demonstrates many different styles of music. Each spring, the orchestra attends the State Festival where they are judged and commented on by professional judges.

GIRLS ENSEMBLE

Mr. John Sanders — Director

The Girls Ensemble is a performing group of girls chosen because of excellent work in Chorus or by audition. They sing for numerous occasions throughout the year. Christmas is a busy time with programs downtown, at shopping centers, schools, and churches. The Ensemble takes part in all concerts given by the vocal music department, and has always received high ratings in contests and festivals. They usually engage in a fund raising project which helps to pay the expenses of a relaxing weekend trip in the spring.

CHOIR

The Choir is composed of juniors and seniors and is considered the main vocal performing group at Garinger.

The choral literature is generally more difficult and performance is expected to approach professional standards. The students are encouraged to study privately and to take part in other musical groups within the community.

Activities include music festivals, contests, assemblies, programs, trips out of town, and sometimes social events. The Choir rated superior in 1975 contests. Garinger students should be very proud of their choir.

Nine girls are chosen from the Choir to form a special singing group to represent Garinger. They contribute many hours of hard practice on their own time to achieve a beautiful, well blended sound and a fine repertory. As a result, they receive invitations for many singing engagements throughout the year. They are a well-known group in Charlotte and in school circles throughout the state.

The responsibility of students' lives on a bus is the job of our bus drivers. Student drivers must go through several days of training and study. Before obtaining a bus driver's license, a student must pass a technical test of skill and rules.

Bus drivers receive one credit for their service as well as a much appreciated salary. Mr. Ross works with our bus drivers. He advises and constantly checks to make sure that Garinger has the best bus drivers possible. We owe these people a note of gratitude for the giving of their time.

Mr. Jones, Advisor

This year Garinger's debating club consisted of ten members. These students went to many different debates throughout the year and competed in local and state contests.

Under the guidance of Mr. Jones, the club learned to develop different debating skills.

This year the Thespian Society included eleven dramatists. To become a member of the International Thespian Society one must be a Drama Club member and have acquired twelve points, which are given from parts taken in the production of a play. Once one is accepted into the society he is considered an accomplished actor.

Garinger's chapter of VICA: the Vocational Industrial Clubs of America, was organized to unite common bonds among the students enrolled in trade and industrial classes. Its main purpose is to develop leadership abilities and participation in educational, vocational, civic, recreational and social activities. Also, they promote high standards in trade ethics, workmanship, scholarship and safety. They work to foster a deep respect for the dignity of their work. The ability to plan together, organize and carry out projects through the democratic process is developed. Under the leadership of Marty Layton and the guidance of eight teachers, they helped to develop sincere interest and esteem in the students, faculty, and patrons.

The Future Business Leaders of America started the year off by sending two of its delegates, Debra Hubbard and Ms. Hernendez, to a convention in Gatlinburg, Tennessee. This convention consisted of speeches, workshops, and new ideas on public relations.

The FBLA members sponsored several fund raising projects. These included raising money to send people to conventions, for Thanksgiving aid, and for the March of Dimes. They also took part in the National Secretarial Week activities.

FBLA meets at least once a month to further acquaint students going into the business area with procedures in the business world.

Radio I and II are both designed for those interested in Radio Broadcasting. Radio I allows the students to be introduced to Radio Broadcasting and to help them decide if it may be a possible future career.

Those students who find Radio Broadcasting I interesting may further their education by taking Radio Broadcasting II. These students prepare themselves for a career in Radio Broadcasting by working on different jobs and by gaining additional skills.

Garinger should be very thankful for the great service which the Radio classes render to the school. Radio II students all take turns in doing the announcements daily at school. Through these students' hard work and service, Garinger students are kept up-to-date on all activities.

OFFICE AIDES

"There will be no school today — I repeat. . ."

Office assistants perform the many small tasks and errands that are important in keeping the major operations running smoothly and efficiently.

Each day these students spend one period working and helping in one of the three offices. Even though they do not receive credit they help to relieve the strain on the secretaries.

Some of their many duties include: delivering mail and bulletins to the faculty boxes, answering the telephone, and performing the sometimes tedious jobs assigned to them daily.

Through these duties, the students taking this course gain valuable experience in office procedures.

During the school year of 1975-1976, Garinger's J.R.O.T.C. Batallion was operating at its greatest strength ever. During its six year history, enrollment increased from 80 to 180 cadets.

This is the third year of girls' participation in the program. The girls have proven themselves equally competent on the drill field and in the classroom.

The purpose of the Junior Reserve Officer's Training Corps is to promote citizenship and develop leadership potential in the members of the cadet corps.

The batallion was striving this year to maintain its superior standards of performance. This was reached when they received the rating of Honor Unit With Distinction bestowed upon them by the commander of the first R.O.T.C. Region.

Inasmuch as America is celebrating her 200th birthday, Garinger's J.R.O.T.C. unit is becoming increasingly involved in community service. This they demonstrated by providing guides for Garinger's annual College Night and the District Teacher's Meeting.

J.R.O.T.C. is open to all interested students, and it is commanded by Colonel Campbell.

One of the greatest assets to the library is the library assistants. These assistants render valuable services to the librarians that help the library function smoothly. Some of their main purposes are checking out books and writing over-due notices. They also try to keep the books organized while students do their best in getting them out of order. Another duty is to see that no fake I.D.'s are used in checking out educational books. They do not receive academic credit for this, which proves they have an interest in helping people.

Fans follow cats . . .

Were you ever cruising down Shamrock Drive about ten o'clock on Friday or Saturday night this fall? If you were, you probably passed a blue and white activity bus composed of complete silence. That was the way it was seven out of ten times for the 1975 Garinger Varsity Football Team. Recalling the plays that could have changed the entire outcome of the game, still so vivid in their minds; the players were solemn.

But when the Cats pulled into the parking lot, waiting were several parents and loyal fans who tried to overshadow the bitter disappointment that lingered in the air. Exemplifying that ole "Garinger pride" and remembering the potential of the team they followed, the fans were able to lift some of the frustrated faces that filed off the bus.

Losing the season's openers to Hickory and East Mecklenberg inspired the Cats to defeat Harding, 39-7, and arch rival Independence, 14-0. However, a big homecoming loss to Myers Park, 14-6, was to be a prelude to what was to come at a later date.

. . . whether winning or losing

The game against North Mecklenberg, predicted to be conference champs, on their homecoming was expected to be another long night for the Cats. However, during the middle of the first half Wildcat followers were on "cloud nine" when the Cats were winning, 14-0. But unable to contain North's passing game, the Cats left the field with a 14-14 tie.

In most of the second half the Cats were unable to do anything offensively. With 5:16 left in the game North scored. But one minute and thirty-nine seconds later Quarterback Ronald Carriker scrambled 51 yards to make the score 20-21. Coach Wright decided to go for the two-point conversion play that had failed against Myers Park prior to the North game. Running the same "play", Carriker plunged into the end zone to make it 22-21. There was total pandemonium on the Wildcats' side!

During the North game the Cats had been at their best and had shown everyone their potential. Unfortunately, the senior Cats witnessed their last victory in high school football. The trials and tribulations that come with defeat were to be their only memories.

Even though there were a few disturbances among the players at the end of the season, the Cats lost with dignity.

Wildkittens Do It All . . .

Adjusting to the high school scene can often times prove to be a trying time. However, changing from an easy going pace in junior high football to the rough competitive nature of senior high football can be even more difficult. When a jayvee team, composed of players from three different junior high schools, are able to overcome such a change; a season record of 8-0-2 might be the end result. With the Garinger Wildkittens, that's the way it was.

Superior coaching on the part of new head coach Rogers and assistant coach Hilewitz, combined with a rare unity among talented players; these were the essential factors in the first undefeated season in Wildkitten football history. The 'Kittens' explosive running game evolved around MVP Larry Brown and the defensive unit that "stuck", commanded by Tommy Brimhall and Charles Allen, were the strongest aspects of their game plan.

Being able to "learn to live with success" proved to be a most enjoyable pastime for the club. Defeating a strong East Mecklenberg team, predicted to be conference champs, 19-0, and a truly competitive West Mecklenberg team in the last game of the season and championship game, both games 7-6, made victory sublime.

Run . . . jog . . . pace yourself . . . take it slowly . . . echoed in the background of a typical 1975 Garinger Harrier practice. Participating in such an individualistic sport as cross country requires a great deal of determination and dedication from each runner. Jogging every school day and on the weekends tested the agility of a Harrier.

Never winning a meet during the season does not truly represent what each player gained. Being in condition for another varsity sport and winning the battle against their bodies were victories in themselves.

Winning didn't mean being the first to cross the finish line but just being able to cross it.

Best Season Yet

The socks ended their regular season with an impressive record of 7-3, their best season yet.

The team got the season rolling with wins over Northside and Concord. After a loss to Independence, the 'Cats were up for the win over Myers Park. The Myers Park victory was the most outstanding game of the season since it proved how good the 'Cats could be. Myers Park went on to win the city wide tournament.

Captain Alan Williams and junior goalie Mike Gillespie led the defense, which had four shut outs. The socks were led offensively by junior Peter Conn with 15 goals.

Considering the youth of the team, the 'Cats offense was much stronger than expected.

Next year looks to be even more successful than this year since many of the socks will be returning.

Netters Progressing Rapidly

In its second year as a Varsity sport, the Netters showed tremendous improvement by a record of 4-5.

The team had difficulty in putting it all together in their two opening defeats to Myers Park and East Mecklenburg. As the season progressed, the unity and spirit of the team began to come alive with wins over Independence, West Mecklenburg, North Mecklenburg, and Harding.

The Netters were led by seniors Terry Frye, Sharon O'Neill, and most improved player, Linda Orr.

Since many of the girls will be returning, the outlook for next year is hopeful.

Get up for the Wildcats

The Varsity Basketball team started out winning with a splurge of excellence. Opposing teams were unable to contain their accurate passing, superb shooting, and tough, sticking defense.

The average spectator was sure to see a thriller when he found himself in the middle of a Wildcat contest. One was able to witness Ronnie "Moojoo" Little busting the basket for 36 points, Frank "Tree" Owens blocking shots back and forth, Freddie Lee Hanson throwing unbelievable passes into the middle of a crowd to Brick Smith, and Brian "Twig" Little sinking his aerial twenty footers. Wildcat reserves entered the games relieving their fellow teammates, with enthusiasm and true aggressiveness.

If one found himself falling asleep, he was constantly awakened by the firey voice of Coach John Robinson and the overpowering enthusiasm of the Garinger fans.

Wildkittens lose despite effort

Being unable to execute the right plays at the right time, doomed the jayvee basketball team from the start of their 1976 season. Under the supervision of Reed Hilderbrand, the Wildkittens suffered several defeats that were determined at the buzzer. Even though their overall record might make one think they fought for a losing cause, we all know they fought for a winning and lasting cause, Garinger High School.

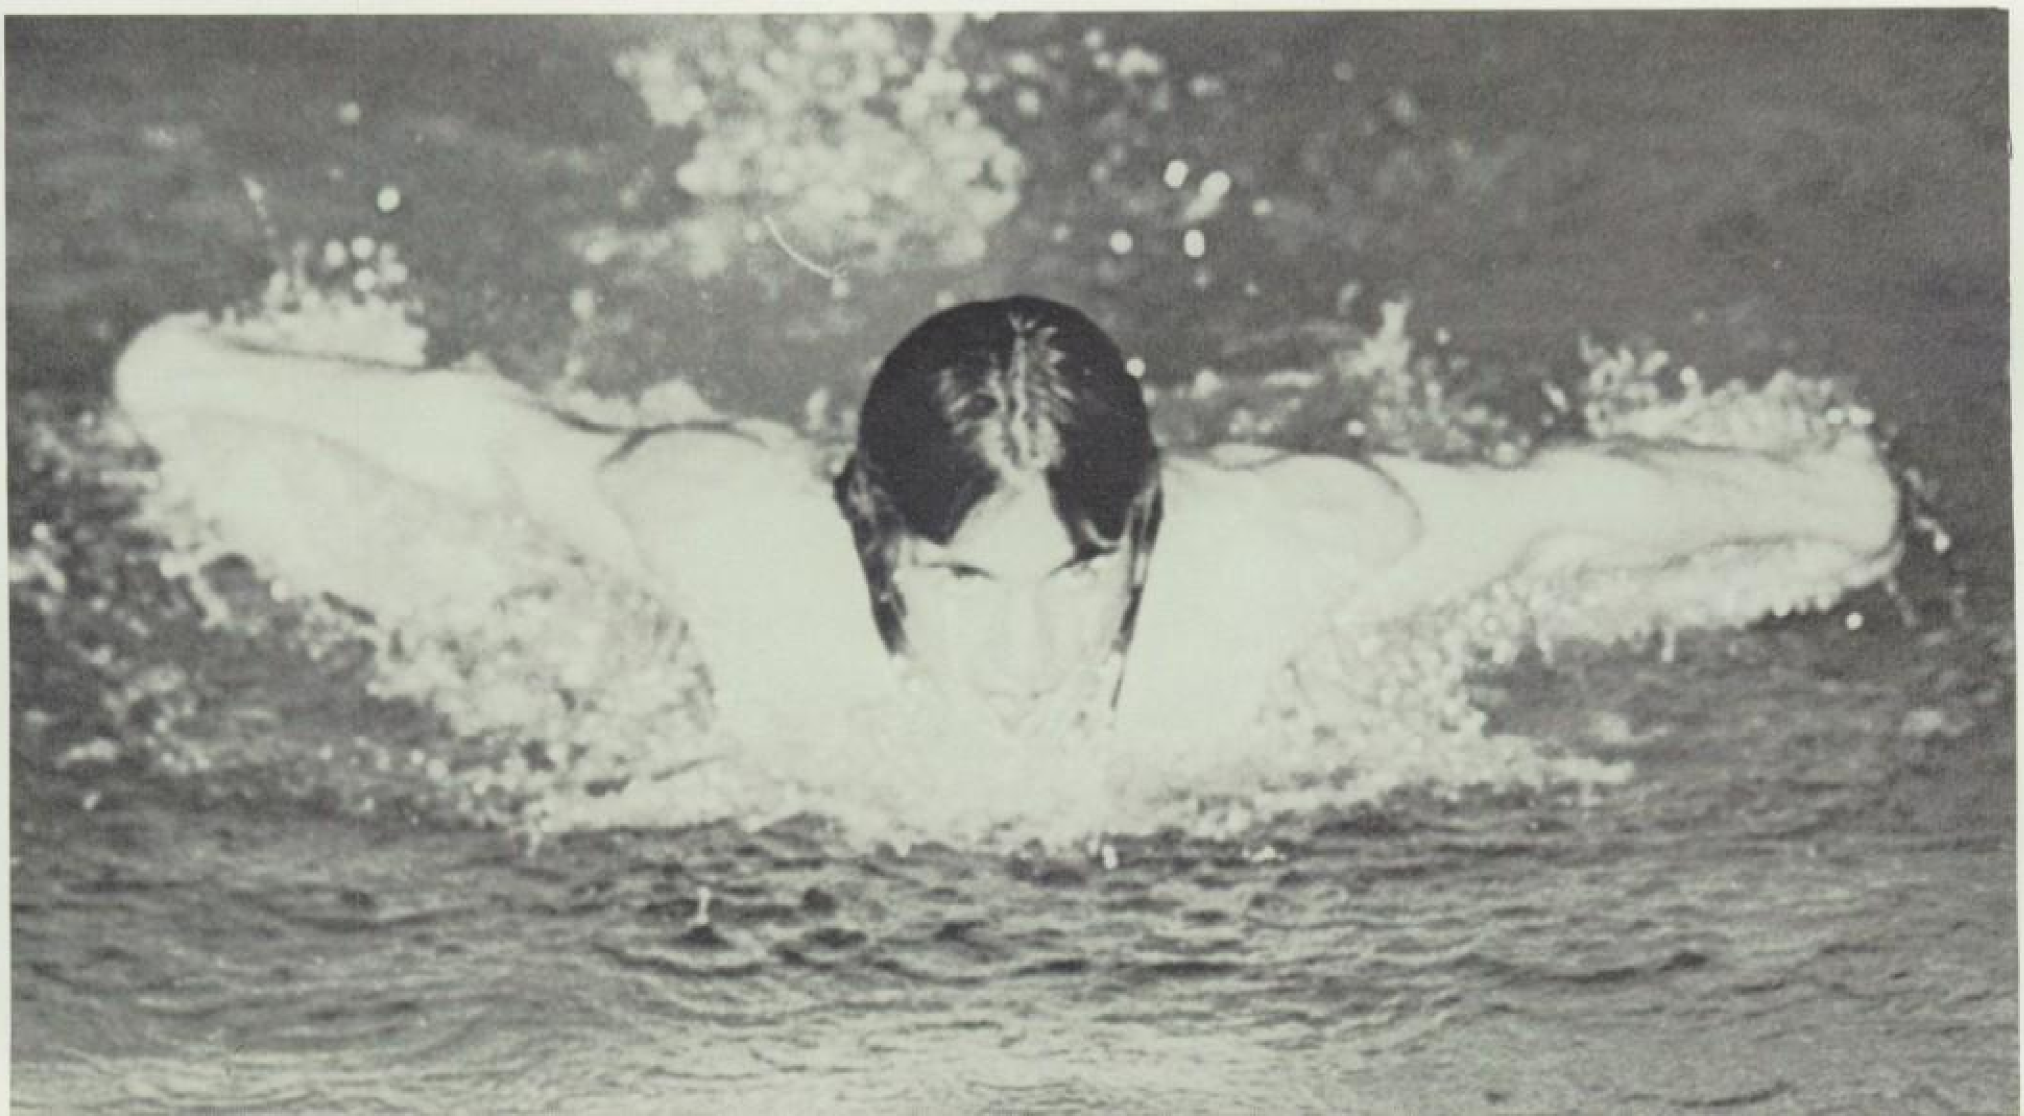
This year's addition to the Garinger sports scene was the men and women's swim team.

Ms. Vicki Schliestett led her charges through an impressive season. The practices at Johnston YMCA paid off in satisfactory rewards for the women. They proved that in the aquatic world women are not the weaker sex.

If this year was any indication of what is to come then Garinger will be proud of the "Catfish" during the seventy-six, seventy-seven school year.



Matmen have successful season

The Garinger Matmen ended their season with a strong 8-4-1 record. They were led by senior Steve Mims, who had only one loss, and who went on to win a medal in the City Tournament at East Meckenburg. Coaches Sean McCormick and Jim Carroll had preseason hopes for a good squad since many of the wrestlers were returning. Juniors John Holloway, Jeff Shirley, and Jimmy Lowery were assets to the team.

The team looks for a winning team next year with more than half the squad returning.

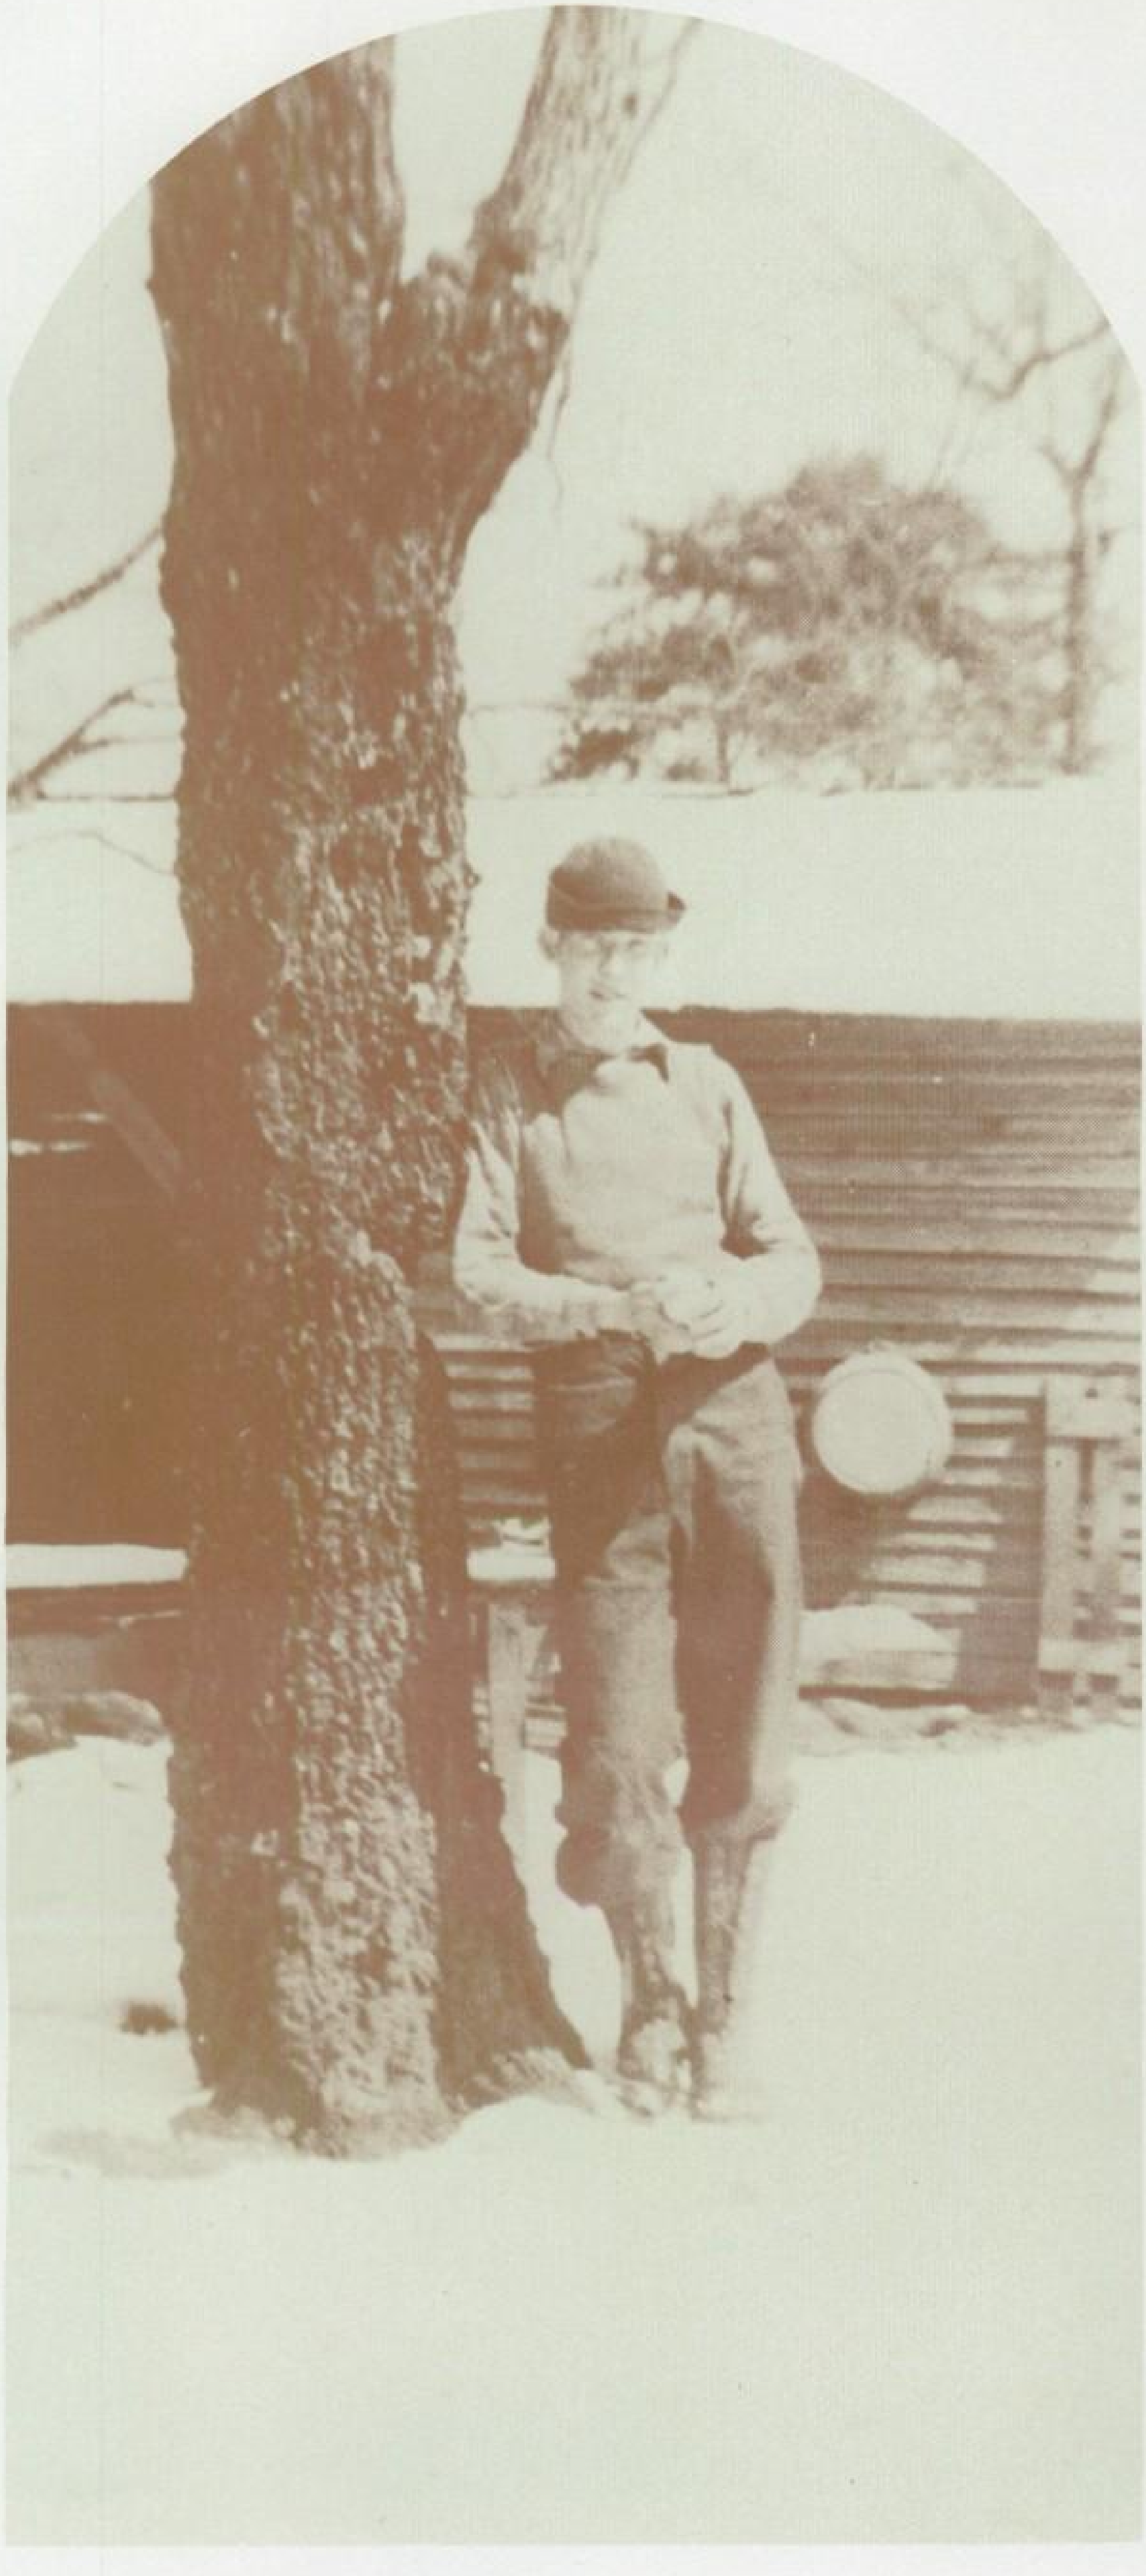
Due to the misplacement of senior pictures by the photography company and a printing deadline, these seniors have been added after the conclusion of this section.

There are places I'll remember
All my life though some have changed,
Some forever, not for better,
Some have gone and some remain,
All these places had their moments
With lovers and friends I still can recall,
Some are dead and some are living,
In my life I've loved them all.

—The Beatles
1965



As varied as they are many — yet —
united in a maze of untrodden paths
They wander as has been the custom for decades on this mysterious path
And find comfort in knowing that their academic ancestors have done
The same and — Survived . . .

I WANNA GO TO A BIG HIGH SCHOOL!

What's the biggest public high school in North Carolina? J.G., Charlotte.

Charlotte's Garinger High School, with 2,320 students in grades 10 through 12, takes the honors. That figure is from the North Carolina State Board of Education's newest statistics, based on enrollment at the end of the first month of the 1975-76 academic year. Last year, the biggest public high school in the state was New Hanover High in New Hanover County, with 2,303 students in grades 10 through 12. But Garinger has held the No. 1 spot in Mecklenburg County for two years, edging East Mecklenburg High for the title in 1974-75. The smallest public high school is Ocracoke High, on North Carolina's outerbanks. This school has a whopping enrollment of 23 students in grades nine through 12. In fact, Ocracoke has shrunk in size from last year, when its enrollment was 24. This year's enrollment in North Carolina's 368 public high schools is 367,459 students in grades nine through 12.

One, two buckle my shoe.

Last June, Dr. Elmer H. Garinger, for whom our school was named, paid a visit to the Snips and Cuts staff and discussed the history of Central and Garinger High School.

The Yearly Review

This edition of the yearly review will express the purpose of the annual's theme, recognize outstanding occurrences or achievements which have affected life around Garinger, and show points of interest throughout the city, state, nation, and world.

The people responsible for the annual's introduction have transformed the national bicentennial into a more relevant issue by tracing the evolution of Garinger from 1908-1976 in the hope that a correlation would be drawn between the development of Garinger and the beginning of the United States. It was also thought that a review of the school years preceding "75-76" would encourage understanding and appreciation of our lives today.

The following events helped to make Garinger what it was for six hundred and eleven seniors, six hundred and seventy-five juniors, and nine hundred and thirteen sophomores, in the "75-76" school year.

The first thing noticed by those students and teachers who frequently visited the 300 office was the absence of the amiable Dene Sinclair, due to her transfer to the main office annex. Arriving late to school just wasn't the same without Ms. Sinclair. Her return to the 300 office in November was welcomed by one and all.

A new, paved track with a bright, shiny fence to protect it finally brought some form of reward for Garinger's unappreciated Cindermen. Another addition to the campus was an auto mechanics building. This new asset has helped to further the aspirations of some future Richard Petty.

Both boys and girls alike around Garinger were found broadcasting their feelings via a little gadget called a "mood ring". When their mood rings registered dark brown or black, perhaps one could hear an exclamation of "Sit on it," pass from their depressed lips.

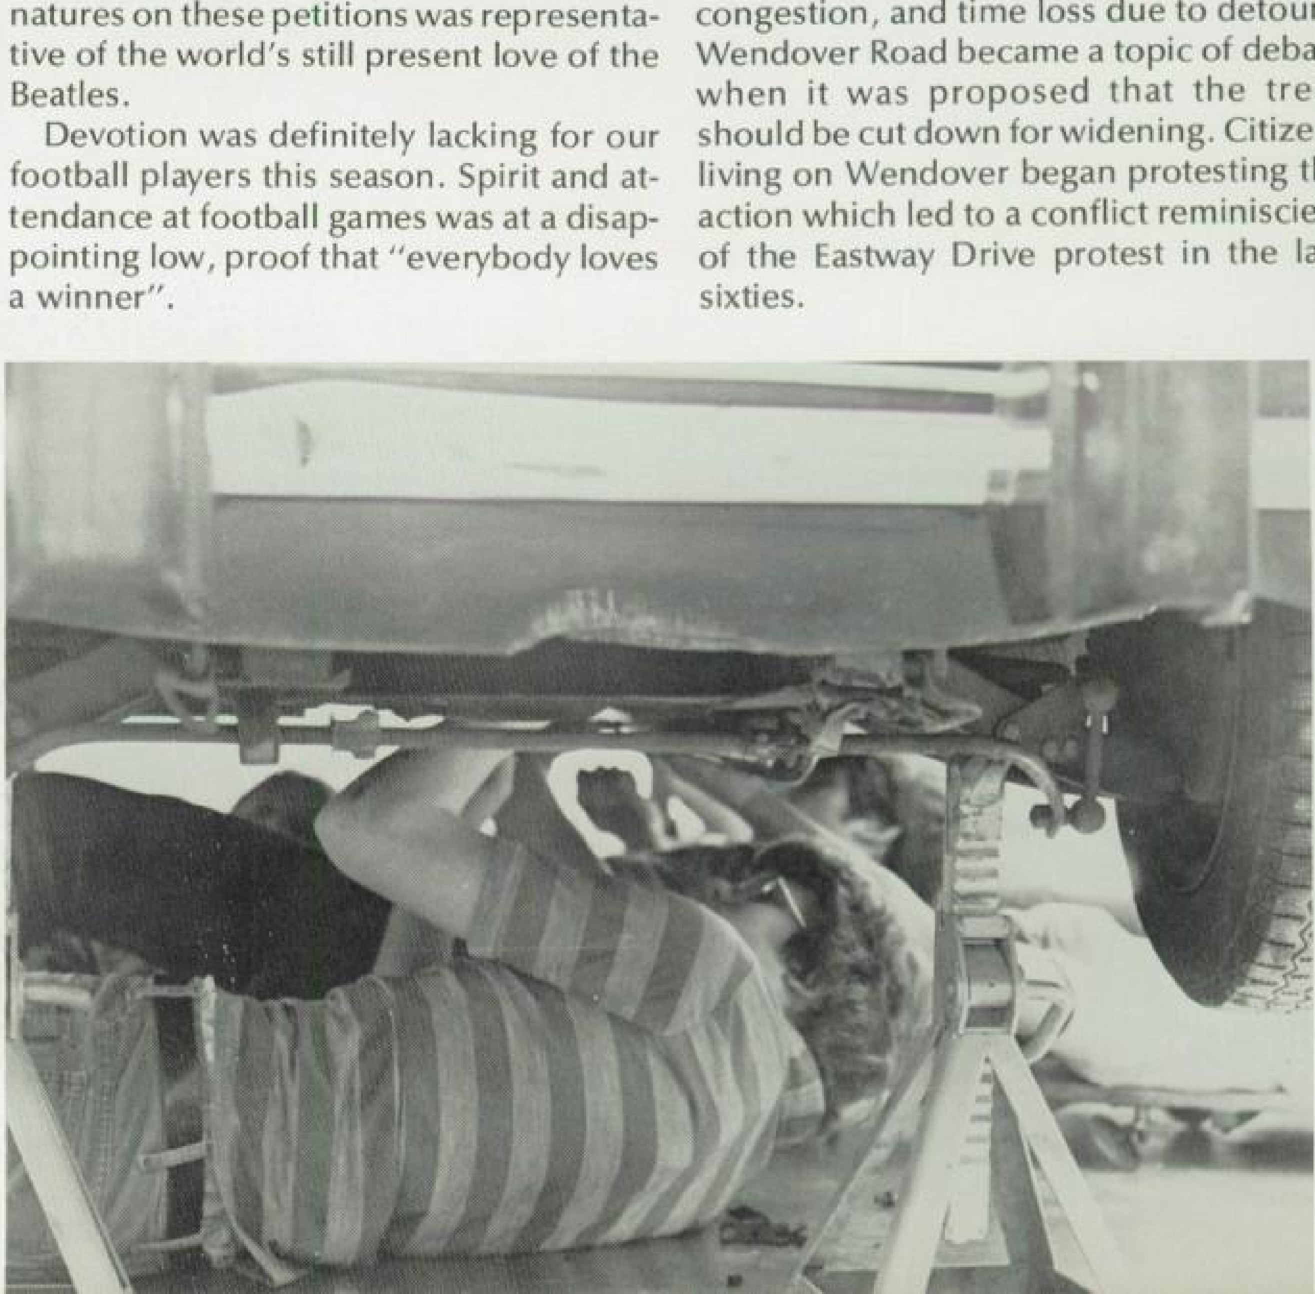
Such "intellectual" fads and terms only support the theory of the year that high school students don't seem to be as smart as they used to be. This rumor started when reports were released by College Board Testing Systems that SAT scores were the lowest ever recorded. Can a national testing organization and a certain teacher in room 309 be wrong? We hope so!

The national bicentennial was not overlooked at Garinger. The band contributed to the Bicentennial Spirit by selling packages of bicentennial tulips. Another form of dedication was demonstrated at the Big "G" in the form of "Beatle-mania".

Petitions to "bring back the Beatles" circulated through the school. The many signatures on these petitions was representative of the world's still present love of the Beatles.

Devotion was definitely lacking for our football players this season. Spirit and attendance at football games was at a disappointing low, proof that "everybody loves a winner".

Locally, John Belk proved himself a winner once again by being re-elected to th office of Mayor. One popular action o Mayor Belk was his brave participation i Eastland's opening on ice. Eastland's arrival provided stores and eating establishments, a three part theater complex and of course, there's always the ice arena Considering the number of people to b found at Eastland on any given night, on can only wonder what everyone did before it was opened. Sharon Amity Road' reconstruction was basically finished i January, thus allieviating much traffic congestion, and time loss due to detours Wendover Road became a topic of debat when it was proposed that the tree should be cut down for widening. Citizen living on Wendover began protesting th action which led to a conflict reminiscien of the Eastway Drive protest in the lat sixties.



• Our present road system seemed to please the "Moving On" producers enough to film two shows about trucking. Many local citizens were used in the episodes. Charlotte was definitely growing up in leaps and bounds. No one really needed a television company to tell them that. One trip downtown expresses Charlotte's new maturity quite accurately. Our NCNB building was even publicized in Newsweek this past summer. Downtown Charlotte was not only an example of what the future has to hold, it also took part in our Bicentennial heritage. It served as the first location at the West Charlotte Civitan's bell which rang muffled for a week in various locations about the county. Charlotte citizens all celebrated the Bicentennial by driving around with "First in Freedom" license tags on their cars. Throughout the state, the bicentennial was celebrated by musket fire, traveling caravans, and various other activities.

Perhaps causing much more excitement than any bicentennial program was the arrival of the Rolling Stones in Greensboro for a performance this summer. "Rock and roll" could have taken on a new meaning for people in Wilmington, N.C., had the prediction of the earthquakes been correct. Thankfully, the designated week of January 20 came without even the slightest tremor, thereby saving that coastal city from drifting out into the ocean.

Guatemala was not as lucky as Wilmington. A devastating earthquake did rip through this small country. Many Americans rallied to produce food, clothing, and money for the Guatemalans.

Meanwhile, New York was experiencing its own disaster — bankruptcy. Singer Paul Anka held a concert and turned over all proceeds to New York in order to help the city's financial predicament.

This was the year of the disaster film to end them all — Jaws. More people went to see a vicious, great white shark than ever saw Rhett Butler or Maria and the Von Trapp kids. The lighter side of celluloid amusement had "Rhoda" getting married, a bright spot to an otherwide dull year for television.

Real life romance was a slightly different matter for the "beautiful people" of television, rock and tennis. Jimmy Connors and Chris Evert split up during Wimbledon — which may explain their inabilities to win their championship matches.

The real romantic drama of the year belonged to nude but sweet Cher — and now, soap opera fans, a brief synopsis of Cher's romantic escapades: Divorced Sonny — married Gregg Allman, nine days later left Gregg — reconciles, left him, reconciled, left him, found to be pregnant, reconciled, teamed with Sonny professionally for television show again. Jack Ford in the White House seemed to be taking advantage of his fish bowl existence, despite all of his complaining. First it was Bianca Jagger and now Chris Evert. While Jack was playing America's Cassanova, his sister Susan became a photographer and most recently was hired to do a spread for a magazine. Meanwhile, Betty Ford was bringing candor and dancing to the White House while President Ford proved that most football players are basically clumsy. The Fords brought a new element of interest to the White House that almost every American could relate to in some way.

The Patty Hearst story was another subject that was quite relevant to Americans in general. Her return from the underground on September 18 brought to the forefront once again the idea that whether guilty or innocent she was victim of our times; therein lies the relevance to the American people no matter to what social or economic group they belong.

Another sign of the times was the attempt made by an Arabic oil magnate to purchase the Alamo. Talk about recycling — what's more ridiculous than American dollars being used by Arab oil men to buy American landmarks? Arabians were instrumental in many aspects of American life this year. Two horses in the Kentucky Derby were descendants of the agile, ancient Arabian race horses. The Kentucky Derby race itself was beset by tragedy. "Ruffian", the favorite suddenly snapped her right fetlock, consequently losing the "Race of the Century", to "Foolish Pleasure".

Alaska contributed to the pursuit of foolish pleasure by legalizing marijuana. One wonders if the work on the great Alaskan pipe line will be continued with quite as much interest as before.

Billy Jean King shifted her interests this year and became a sports caster rather than participant. This was brought about by her retirement from tennis competition.

A sadder note for the sports world was the death of Casey Stengel. He was a colorful figure and is missed by baseball players and fans.

Presidential candidates began their campaign trials in nineteen seventy-five. A multitude of Democrats and two Republicans were listed as presidential hopefuls by the New Hampshire primary. Many Garinger students will vote for the first time in an election year that stresses quantity not quality.

The United States was not the only country where violence, romance, and surprise were held. Great Britain became a center for mass terrorism. America's Caroline Kennedy barely escaped death due to an act of terrorism meant for the British official with whom she was residing.

On the more harmonious side of national affairs was the Appolo-Soyuz space mission. The mission involved an American and Russian space capsule. The two capsules docked in space and the astronauts and cosmonauts then shared many responsibilities and memories. They exchanged cultural packages representative of their respective countries. Upon completion of their experience one American astronaut was moved to tears.

Another international meeting was between English actor Richard Burton and Elizabeth Taylor in Africa. It resulted in their re-marriage on an African game lodge. Unfortunately, shortly there after Burton contacted malaria.

The United States welcomed a visit by Emperor Hirohito of Japan. It was his first visit to the United States. He was taken, among other places, to Disneyland and Pearl Harbor. It was quite a step for American-Japanese relations since Hirohito had proclaimedsuch disdain for the U.S. during World War II.

Francisco Franco, another powerful figure during World War II, died this year. He was succeeded by his nephew. Conversely, King Faisal of Saudi Arabia was assassinated by his nephew in early nineteen seventy-five. The assassin was executed publicly by decapitation.

This was an interesting year for international sports. Pele, a Brazilian soccer player, joined the New York Cosmos, thereby assuring the team of a good season. Muhammed Ali beat Joe Frazier in the "Thrilla from Manila". Ali proved once again that his footwork and fists are as quick as his mouth. Arthur Ashe pulled a surprise win over Jimmy Connors at Wimbledon. The Winter Olympics held an element of surprise in the person of Sheila Young. This woman speed skater achieved the feat of winning three medals for herself and the U.S. The summer Olympics will hit home with many Garinger students since history teacher Reed Hilderbrand will be playing on the Olympic handball team.

With the advent of summer, many of us will gather together all the experiences that we have had through the years and think of the effect they will have on what we are yet to do. College and/or work stands over the horizon and we have but our dreams to sustain our quests. Each child-like step into the world quickly becomes our past because of the brevity of its presence, but still brings us closer to our hopes for tomorrow

Alan,
I'm glad I got to know you this year at work. You are a real nice + cute manager,
I know you are gonna
let me have your beautiful car. Good Luck in the future & I'll see
ya at work.
Love,
Patti

Thank you 1976 Snips and Cuts annual staff and long suffering, patient and ever helpful Miss Jean Grisdale, our advisor. Special thanks to Mr. Doster for his expert photography advice and also Mr. Norman for his constant concern and suggestions.

Because of your hard work and dedication to do a good job our year is recorded, and is now part of Garinger's history and joins those behind us.

We have found, as did our predecessors, that a yearbook is not born by itself. Thank goodness for those of you with "know-how" who came to the aid of us "green horns" in the yearbook business.

My editorship will always be one of the high points in my life. An editor is only as good as his staff. Thanks friends, for working hard, long hours, for overcoming obstacles and frustrations, meeting deadlines, solving problems, and always being there.

The school of deadlines, pressures, and short tempers gave us lessons in "give and take" with rewards of patience, tolerance, and recognitions of each other's capabilities and talents — a true learning experience. Snips and Cuts, 1976, is how it was at Garinger.

alan,
its really been great knowing you in choir. I thought I wouldn't like Garinger much, but I've found out differently or the people are really nice. We really had fun in Greensboro, didn't we? Remember me & I hope you get what you want out of life. Love you,

ALAN,
MY TWO YEARS
HERE AT GARINGER HAVE PROBABLY BEEN THE WORST
I'VE EVER SPENT ANYWHERE, BUT I'M THANKFUL FOR GOOD PEOPLE LIKE
YOU WHO MADE IT ALL BEARABLE!
GOOD LUCK WITH WHATEVER YOU DECIDE TO DO. KEEP IN TOUCH.
6-2-76

Alan,
It been the best time all year to have you in my history class except when you and I had to do the Charleston! but it was them fun, We'll all miss your humor in class, hope you have a great summer

alan,
I have known you for a long time. You are very nice & funny!
I'll never forget how you always fell asleep in English! You are very talented in drama!
Good luck & keep in touch. Much happiness & wish to you.
Love ya,

alan,
I have really enjoyed getting to know you this year. We've had some good times
in history. you are the only guy
I have ever had a crush on for a whole year (ha-ha)
Good luck. Stay
sweet.

alan,
It's been a pleasure
having you in my home-
room the past three years!
you've really kept our spirits up in there. Best of luck to you in the future. I hope you accomplish what you set out to do. Take care!
Janetta Dula

Alan,
You are truthfully one of the nicest people I know. I feel that you're there if I need you (to drive my car home, etc.). I wish you happiness & in your life ahead. I know you've added something to my life. God bless you Alan + keep in touch!

Love always,
Sherra A. Dunn

Alan,
This is a very interesting time of year.
It's the time when we get to find out what other people rea think about us even though they try not to let us. One thing you can be sure o is that I really do think you are a great person (my mother warned me about people like yo

Alan,
I must say that I have really enjoyed English with you this year. I will never forget you - awake or asleep.
You made me feel really good, because I could just about always count
on you to make the same grades on tests as I did.
You take care of yourself and keep in touch.

Al,
Man, you are one of the most friendly people I know.
You have an attitude towards life that can't be matched. I know you will be happy in life
just by the way you live it now.
Your friend,
Bobby Eochan

Alan,
After celebrating
our terrific 20's project,
I can actually say I know you — as a friend, a fellow dancer, a classmate, a cook, (though you weren't there to fix the Indian stuff) a drunk, a "Mr. Edwards contradictor", a guy who tells constipated people "TUFFLUCK KID", a hamburger chef, an actor, a person who writes forkhanded, a person who does not read Mrs. Davies books, and a guy who's become really close to me this year. Thanks for the lovely memories of our "wonderful"
History class.
Sherry Winchester

Alan,
We've come a long way
since 10th grade, huh? You are really a nice guy and a fun guy to be around. If it wasn't for you + Winchester history wouldn't of been half as fun! I wish you only happiness, but if bad times should arise,
my only advice is GRIN IT and BEAR IT!
Love ya,
Peggy

Alan, we're sure going to miss you in choir next year, especially the enthusiasm you had!
How can I ever forgot the ride you gave me in
Mr. Sander's chair. I couldn't see straight for 5 minutes.
If you ever did it again I'd kill you, but you'd have a wonderful 5 minutes to escape in while I was getting my bearings. Take care. Ginny Walter

Alan,
What a nerd!
That's you, babe.
I really don't know what to tell you. It's been a really chaotic high school career, but it's finally come to an end. Shewie! I'm glad you were a part of it. It's been more than fun. It's been funtastic. Hope to see you during the summer. I wish you all the luck in the world. Be good. Love, Lyn
Stevie Stevenson

Alan,
It been great being in the same class
this year, we've had some good times
don't work hard.

Alan
Small

Alan,
Thank you so much for everything you have done for our Choir! I am glad I got Sanders to give you an A this year.
You really deserved it! Thanks also for taking me to the ball games last fall — I really felt like I was in school again.
Please stay yourself, take advantage of opportunities and life will be good to
you. Come back for visits next year.
Love, Miss Howe
